(Held Over)

It seems that this community has a hospital report each week. Miss Linda Kerr and Mrs. Douglas Ingram have returned to their respective homes. Miss Nancy Hay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hay is in hospital. Nancy had the misfortune to scald her foot and infection set in. She is now progressing well. Mrs. Etta Dunk, who has been in poor health for some time, returned to Campbellford Memorial Hospital on Monday evening. She had injured her back in a fall in her home on Saturday.

Miss Marion Wright attended a tasseau tea for her sister Miss Bernice Wright held in Kingston on Saturday. On Sunday, Miss Fern Tinney, Miss Harriet Fry, Mrs. Bob Tinney, Mrs. Jack Watson, Mrs. Murray Heath and Miss Elizabeth Barnum had afternoon tea with Miss Bernice Wright of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Tinney of Bancroft, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tinney.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tinney visited Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Embury and Mrs. Margaret Embury, of Melrose, on Sunday. Mrs. Gordon Snider, in Victoria and Ontario Counties Saturday, June 13, their annual bus tour.

Leaving early in the morning two bus loads of farmers, their wives and friends left to enjoy themselves and to see how some of their better Holstein breeders and crop men operate. Their first stop was at the Flemingdale Estate at Raeboro in Victoria County. Here while a mist descended down over everyone, the Fleming Bros. showed them the high producing herd, the young bulls, and their pastures and grains. Everyone was interested in the high production. The Fleming Bros. were able to get from the herd but were also interested to see the difference that good legumes can make on the following grain crops. Half the field of grain was being grown on legume sod while the other half was on corn ground. That which was growing on the legume sod had a decidedly greener, richer colour, due largely to the release of nitrogen which the legume crop had fixed in the soil.

From there they went to the Dunrobin, Elmcroft Farms of Geo. McLaughlin's, Beaverton, to see one of Canada's better herd of Holsteins. In the absence of Mr. McLaughlin, who was attending a conference at Elgin House that week end, Mr. Harold and Maurice Jebson, herdsmen, welcomed the group and showed them the herd of Yorkshires and Holsteins. All were quite inspired with the large dairy cows but were even more impressed with the pasture fields. Here Mr. McLaughlin pastures 75 head of milking cows on 50 acres for the complete pasture season, with the exception of a couple of weeks in the fall when they are removed to let the legumes store up food and strengthen themselves for the winter. He has a fine mixture of legumes and grasses and uses rotational pasturing. After the cows have moved to a new section, that section that they were on is clipped with a rotary mower so that the plants are not cut too closely to the ground and chain harrowed. The whole pasture is heavily manured in the spring, with super phosphate and potash added in the fall and early summer. In order to keep a proper legume, grass ratio little nitrogen needs to be added to this pasture as the manure supplies sufficient with that of the legumes.

The last Holstein farm to be visited was that of Orvan Chambers, Willefrede, Way Brook Farms. Mr. Chambers has a smaller herd than that of McLaughlin's but a herd of equal quality; 3 excellent, 14 very good, and 12 good plus — none lower. He, like the others, gives much attention to quality pastures and quality hay. He feels that these two factors help greatly in obtaining and maintaining high production.

Much interest by the men present was in the hay stem crusher or crimper here and the hay roller at Dunrobin Elmcroft Farms. Both Mr. Chambers and Mr. McLaughlin have high praise for this machinery in helping them to get the hay cured faster and so get more quality hay stored in the early season when the protein content is the highest.

The final visit was to the National Stud Farm at Oshawa, where they saw some of the finest horses and young colts. Here again great care is given to pastures as the horses must have a good grass legume mixture and plenty of it.

All the farms visited were stressing one common factor, hays and pastures, but to have good hays and pastures one must have the soil properly prepared, must have used the proper seed mixture and then must have given it the proper management. Thus once again it was shown that we can learn much from our fellow worker.

will be protected from storms or cold winds. A humus soil is best. Do not water plants during heat of day, but later in early evening after the sun has set. Use a sprinkling can so the water will not hurt the leaves. Do not separate the small crowns from the large ones, as they will soon blossom and be larger well-rounded plant. Outside they will not need so much fertilizer, once every three or four weeks. Lift and pot before any danger of frost in the fall.

Pinch out unwanted growth on grapes and fruit trees.

Pinch back asters, chrysanthemums. Pinch back most annuals. Shape shade trees and evergreens.

After tulip peals fall, break off young seed head before they ripen in order to conserve bulb strength.

It is still possible to plant Clematis because most nurseries have potted plants that can be transplanted without setback. Clematis is a beautiful flowering vine that is becoming increasingly popular.

Pinching encourages more blooms on annuals, by pinching out the growing tips. This will increase branching. Plants benefitting from pinching include, Ageratum, Petunia, Snapdragons, Verbena, Marigold, Zinnia and Salpiglossis. Don't pinch cockscomb, poppies or balsam.

Pruning — All spring flowering shrubs should be pruned immediately after they have finished blooming so that they will have plenty of time to set flower buds for next year. If pruned too late flowers may be few or non-existent next year.

A CAR FOR A QUEEN

Little Ann Turnes admires the rear compartment of the Cadillac Fleetwood Sedan which has been adapted and specially fitted for the Royal Tour of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip. Two individually powered rear seats, upholstered in silver grey McLaughlin Carriage cloth, are features of the rear compartment of the car. Matching cushions and a lap rug of the same material — the latter carrying the Royal Crest embroidered in red gold — as well as grey mouton floor covering and individual hassocks, complete the decor of the rear compartment. The car is also specially equipped with twin air conditioning units, powered sliding sunshine roof panel and a remote control radio knob at the Queen's right hand. Shown top, left, is a rear view of the exterior of the Royal Cadillac, which illustrates the detachable bubble of optically perfect plexiglass. It can be removed or installed in minutes. Lower left shows the car emerging from one of the RCAF's C-119 "Flying Boxcars" which will transport it to many Canadian points and to Chicago during the Royal Tour.

WAY TO THE SEA

The prospect of linking the shipping lanes of the world's oceans with the world's largest chain of fresh-water lakes in the industrial heartland of North America has offered an obvious challenge to the joint ingenuity of Canada and United States for more than half a century. The meeting of the Queen and the President on June 26th formally to open the St. Lawrence Seaway marked the achievement of a venture in international co-operation with few historical parallels.

Sixty-four years have elapsed since the idea of a Seaway was first mooted. It was in 1895 that a Deep Waterways Commission was created by the governments of the two countries to report on the feasibility of a deep channel from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic. By the early years of this century the scheme was clearly conceived on the broad lines along which it now stands accomplished — as a joint undertaking of the two countries and with the joint purposes of a ship channel and a hydro-electric power source. These essential aspects have never been lost to sight despite the legislative and technical difficulties that have beset their fulfilment. Even the basic engineering facts of today's St. Lawrence navigation and power project were specified as long as 1926 and 1927. In those years a joint board of engineers confirmed the feasibility of developing 2.2 million horse power of electric energy in the International Rapids section and a Canadian advisory committee proposed a 27-foot channel from Montreal to Lake Ontario.

For some years thereafter the history of the project was punctuated by a succession of plans and proposals and of chronic delays in reaching firm decisions. While the Seaway scheme found many enthusiastic supporters it also met a large body of no less determined opponents and one of the strongest lobbies in American congressional history succeeded in defeating the enabling legislation under six Presidents, all of whom favoured it.

The Canadian position was, throughout, rather more clear-cut. The project must have seemed a daring and premature idea when first proposed. It was certainly a bold conception, providing as it did for transportation and power requirements far in excess of reasonable expectations at the time. Yet, despite her relatively smaller needs and resources, Canada was usually the prime mover.

As time passed, economic growth on both sides of the border brought the facilities offered by the project more within range of the reasonable and indeed within the realm of the necessary. If anything, the Canadian case for pressing forward with construction gained momentum more rapidly than the American to the point where Canada eventually decided to "go it alone" if U.S. co-operation should not be forthcoming. Action was finally initiated by Canadian legislation in the form of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority Act of December 1951 and United States later joined in by passing the Wiley-Dondro Act through Congress in 1954. Construction of the Seaway, begun late that year, moved forward on a joint basis in 1955.

The task, which was accomplished on schedule in a little more than four years, was immense and complex and met with some unforeseen difficulties. That more than 50 million cubic yards of earth would have to be excavated and 2 million cubic yards of concrete poured was known in advance to more than fifty firms which held major contracts for the Canadian sections alone. But some problems that were not foreseen caused engineering difficulties after construction began. At the Beauharnois lock, contractors met hard underlying sandstone which held up all progress until a new drill had been devised to complete boring. Ice jams, high winds and flood waters hampered construction of cofferdams at the Montreal entrance and at the Cornwall project, while dredging was complicated by unexpected physical obstacles.

Considerable expense was also incurred in relocating more than 6,500 people as well as towns, railways and roads on the north shore of the St. Lawrence between Cornwall and Prescott which was scheduled for flooding on completion of the Cornwall and Iroquois Power Dams. In addition Indian consent had to be obtained to expropriate part of the Caughnawaga Reservation in the Lachine Section of the channel. One of the most difficult tasks was providing 120-foot clearance over the Seaway in existing bridges between Montreal and the south shore of the St. Lawrence, while at the same time maintaining an uninterrupted flow of vehicular traffic over these vital links.

The total cost of the combined navigation and power aspects is now considerably higher than expected when construction began. Canada has borne the larger share of costs of the navigation aspects and these have risen from $205 million estimated in 1955 to $329 million. Thus the 188-mile waterway between Montreal and Lake Ontario, which is one of the longest ship channels in the world, can also lay claim to the more dubious distinction of being the most expensive.

Other dimensions of the Seaway are more modest. Its limiting depth of 27 feet makes it the eighth deepest in the world, equal to the Chesapeake-Delaware canal, but 14 feet shallower than the Panama. Lock width of 80 feet and lengths of 768 feet are also smaller than those of the Panama.

Indeed, doubts have frequently been expressed that the Seaway's basic dimensions — virtually unchanged since specified in 1927 — will prove adequate for the size and quantity of shipping that will use the new ship channel. Some of the largest ocean freighters, particularly bulk carriers such as oil tankers, draw too much water to enter the channel, while many other ocean-going ships may be forced to lighten cargo in order to draw less than the limiting depth. None the less, more than three quarters of the world's ships will be able to enter the Seaway and there is no reason to suppose that tonnage through the new channel will be significantly limited by its depth. Estimates of freight tonnage that may move through the Seaway during the 1959 shipping season vary widely, between 14 and 40 million tons, though over the longer term it is considered that as much as $4 million tons could be handled in any one season. Enlargement in the volume and variety of goods transported should come from a number of quarters. Not only is there likely to be considerably greater overseas traffic but the Seaway will provide a new intracontinental artery. Existing traffic in iron ore westbound from Labrador to mid-continent steel mills and in coal both eastward and westward are expected to be the chief commodities moved within the bounds of the continent.

The Seaway's dimensions may, however, have considerable effect upon the type of shipping using the channel. The postwar trend in ship construction has favoured larger ocean carriers for both bulk and general cargo and if this trend continues it is possible that greater numbers of these large and more economical ships will be prohibited by their deep draft from entering the Seaway. Furthermore, any persistent difficulties that ocean shippers may experience, such as bottlenecks at the St. Lambert lock or Welland Canal, and delays in turn-around time at inland ports, will militate against ocean ships. On the other hand the large specialized lake carrier may prove to be the most competitive and profitable ship to ply the St. Lawrence Seaway, particularly for transporting bulk commodities, such as grain, coal and iron ore, which are expected to constitute nearly 80 per cent of tonnage carried.

In view of these changes the future of a number of ports on the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence is uncertain. Many communities have prepared for the advent of the new channel with a costly programme of harbour improvement and channel deepening, but some are probably destined to be disappointed. Some of the smaller ports do not possess the financial resources that ship operators require if they are to use such ports regularly. The larger ports along the Great Lakes — Toronto, Hamilton, Cleveland and Chicago for example — have been taking positive steps to attract regular freight services and competition will continue to be keen for several seasons.

The air of uncertainty that now surrounds the prospects for the St. Lawrence Seaway is in part a reaction to the excessively hopeful and speculative atmosphere that attended its construction. Many interests have pinned their hopes on rapid results from the advent of the Seaway, but the changes may be slow in coming. Some time may elapse before the Seaway's direct stimulation of trade and commerce will result in a heavier over-all volume of freight movements. In the meantime, it is likely to capture considerable freight from alternative water and rail routes. Much of the opposition aroused by the Seaway has come from interests which fear that this changing pattern will cause losses of an enduring nature to certain regions and communities.

But past experience throughout the world has shown that any major new transportation link which contributes to further economic growth tends to benefit all in the long run. Substantial expansion of sea-borne commerce implies a growth potential that may well make up for such temporary losses as may be experienced by particular carriers and areas as the more immediate result of the Seaway opening.

For not only will the new channel connect lake and ocean-going shipping as the new Seaway implies, it will, in effect, extend shoreline trade between continental points. Although the immediate impact of the St. Lawrence Seaway is not proving to be as revolutionary as its early proponents may have envisaged, it is opening a new chapter in the history of the North American continent. The national well-being of both Canada and United States cannot fail to benefit from the inception of this great international trade route.

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

The weather is to continue the present heat wave, we should be reasonable about it.

I know that St. Paul said: "Let the women keep silent in the Church and let the men wear a head covering;" but we also know he had very good reasons for saying that, reasons which do not obtain today. Also he said a few other things, far more important which a lot of people completely disregard while regarding the "Hat" business.

My point is — I see no reason whatever why men should wear coats on a hot day — my suggestion therefore is — let the men wear white shirts without coats on a hot day — there will be no objection — but for heaven sake — a belt, not braces.

The service at Carmel will be held during July and August at 9:45 a.m.; Sunday School following.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

BEATING THE TIME SQUEEZE

I grab every new book. Few of them excite me. Most of them are old ideas dressed up. Seldom do they contain anything startling or much that is useful. But I keep grabbing, because one idea or even the germ of an idea is worth a great deal of reading. Last night I read a book that really excited me. It has dozens of usable ideas. It deals with the strangest commodity in the world — time. It is called The Management Of Time, written by James T. McCay, and published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., of Englewood Cliffs, New Jersey.

Managing time is a problem faced by everyone — farmer, doctor, business man, student. More and more of us feel we are caught in a time squeeze. We try to beat it by working still harder over longer periods of time and to some extent succeed. But the real leader, according to McCay, has four qualities.

1. He has a following.
2. His following is voluntary.
3. He demonstrates to people the best method of getting what they want.

4. He is the best man at managing time.

McCay puts the emphasis on the fourth point. He says that any man who aspires to leadership in his field these days simply must not be a spendthrift of time. He must "learn to guard it with resolution, to handle it with precision, and to invest it with acumen." By doing this, he will find he has a wealth of time for leadership and development.

McCay acknowledges that the book is the result of his own adventure in self-management. And an exciting adventure it is. One of a firm of psychologists who attempt to help business leaders to solve problems, McCay made some interesting discoveries. Men at the top are top men in countless ways, not only in brain power. They have spent a great deal of time they salvaged by managing time in self-improvement, and in the improvement and inspiration of their associates.

McCay specializes in passing this kind of information along to those of us who do not have at our disposal a battery of psychologists. He tells us how to manage time, not so that we may loaf longer, but so we may, as individuals, improve ourselves and contribute more to the world we live in. And as a payoff for applying the principles he deals with, you may expect a release from the pressure of time.

Those who feel that their success or failure depends on luck or rich uncles or pull will not care for this book at all. Those who know, instinctively, that in this world you get pretty much what you are worth, will welcome the book as a guide to increasing their worth. Trouble is that those who need it most will be least likely to read it. They won't have time!

THE BIBLE TODAY

Two hundred copies of Bibles printed in Armenian Ararat were sent in November from the headquarters of the British and Foreign Bible Society to a destination in Soviet Armenia. This is the first shipment in many years and the sending of this bulk package is part of a Bible Society programme which involves the sending out of six tons of Scriptures every working day from the Bible House in London.

THE FOOD BASKET

The grade marks on canned fruits and vegetables help you to decide what is good value and what is not, for the particular purpose you have in mind. Practically all canned fruits and vegetables sold in Canada are packed in government inspected plants, which means that these products must be graded as to quality and labelled as such.

The chief points on which the grades of canned fruits and vegetables are determined are: desirability of colour and flavour, uniformity of size, degree of maturity and clearness of liquid. Although the appearance is not as good in lower grades, the food value is still excellent. There are three main grades:

Canada Fancy — highest grade, as nearly perfect as possible, packed from sound, clean fruits or vegetables at perfect maturity, free from blemishes, of good colour and uniform in size, liquid clear. Use Canada Fancy canned fruits and vegetables for purposes where uniformity of size and colour is important. (e.g. Peas served with butter).

Canada Choice — slight variation in size, colour and maturity allowed but must be packed from fruits or vegetables which are sound, clean and free from blemishes, liquid fairly clear. Use Canada Choice canned fruits and vegetables when flavour and tenderness are desired, but perfect uniformity in size and colour is not important. (e.g. Peas served in cream sauce)

Canada Standard — prepared from products of good quality but which are not necessarily of the uniform size required in higher grades. Use Canada Standard canned fruits and vegetables where appearance is not a consideration and where the higher grade would be extravagant. (e.g. Peas in soup, casserole dishes, etc.)

In addition, peas and beans may be graded as to size, the size increasing as the numbers, from 1 to 6. The size of peas does not necessarily indicate quality. If the peas and beans are not graded as to size, the label must be marked "ungraded as to size", "assorted sizes" or "mixed sizes".

O.P.P. Booklet
Can Be Obtained
At Any Office

The story of the Ontario Provincial Police with an outline of the force's many and varied duties, is contained in a recently published booklet "Yours For Safety" now available at Provincial Police Offices throughout Ontario.

The booklet contains a foreword by Hon. Kelso Roberts, Attorney General in which he notes that the Ontario Provincial Police Force is one of the largest and finest in the world and of which Ontario can be justly proud.

It has grown from a small group first assembled 50 years ago from which has gradually emerged a modern and efficient law enforcement organization competent to perform its many and varied duties. Head of the O.P.P. is Commissioner W. H. Clark.

The Province is divided into 17 Police Districts with each district broken into areas policed by detachments, each of which is made up of the number of officers required for law enforcement in the area.

A police radio network maintains contact between more than 60 fixed stations and 550 radio equipped vehicles and a number of watercraft.

Traffic Patrol

Major effort of the force is concentrated on traffic patrol and the problem of highway safety with motor vehicles being checked at the rate of 700,000 per year to ensure of their road-worthiness. Warnings are given to close to a quarter of a million drivers each year and charges laid reach nearly the 100,000 mark.

Despite this upwards of 50,000 accidents are investigated each year.

"Yours For Safety" lists four major duties of the O.P.P. To maintain traffic patrol on all the Queen's Highways. 2. To police all of rural Ontario. 3. To enforce the provisions of the Liquor Licence and Liquor Control Acts, and 4. To maintain a criminal investigation branch.

Each of these four major duties of the Force, together with other varied duties are outlined in the booklet available to residents and tourists at District O.P.P. Offices.

CONSERVATION
NEWSParklands To Enjoy
Not Destroy

The majority of park visitors use Ontario Provincial Parks as they would their own well kept lawns and buildings, however, each park periodically reports malicious damage or theft.

Ralph Peck, Park Superintendent at the recently opened Outlet Provincial Park reports the following disturbing occurrences all taking place within the period of a week:

One porcelain sink with attached fittings, torn from wall of new comfort station.

Over 200 recently planted trees pulled out of ground and left to die in sun, this is a total loss. Some trees are stolen but planted again providing the guilty party with some measure of tarnished enjoyment.

96 doors bolted from inside in twelve eight-compartment beach change houses. Entry gained through small space under each door.

Two screen doors removed from change houses located along beach.

Orval Goodman, Chief Ranger, Bancroft, reports that during the past few weeks someone cut and disfigured or completely removed metal campsite markers numbers at Lake St. Peter Provincial Park.

Gerry McMurray, Deputy Chief Ranger, White Lake, reports from Black Lake Provincial Park, lighter damage, such as people walking and driving over freshly seeded areas of park land.

All of these occurrences take time and money to rectify — your money — my money and they sometimes too spoil an otherwise perfect day — no upright Canadian Citizen enjoys seeing what is theirs, by virtue of their citizenship, taken or despoiled.

On the brighter side, some of our outdoor loving park patrons leave pleasant and lasting memories with a park ranger or superintendent, for instance the badly crippled old lady who in giving her husband, with a badly damaged heart, perhaps his last camping trip, took time out on breaking up camp to:

1. Scrub down campsite table.
2. Remove garbage and spray garbage container ready for next camper.
3. Clean out ashes from fireplace grill and gather a neat pile of fuelwood for next camper.
4. Take her left over perishable food, including two pies, to a neighbouring camper, who with 3 children appeared on a very strict budget but reluctant to break camp.
5. Finally, car loaded, a visit to the camp ranger's office to say good-bye and to thank him for a most enjoyable stay.

Surely with so many good park patrons leading the way, we will in time weed out and discourage those who commit damage and theft of public property.

Help us to keep our parks free from damage, they are yours to enjoy, not destroy.

The Good Driver

Speculative investors and car drivers should have plenty of margin available — far more than seems necessary for immediate requirements. An investor can lose his entire holdings if he does not have the "margin" to carry him over a sharp dip in the market. A driver can lose his life if his margin of control is just not sufficient to meet a sudden emergency.

Few drivers get into accidents merely through lack of skill. Most motorists, immediately before a crash, had complete control of their cars in the situations they expected. But they didn't have enough margin to adjust to the unexpected events that led to the collision.

It is largely a question of mathematics, comments the Ontario Safety League. Few people will take much risk that only arises occasionally. Troubles to avoid a thousand-to-one. But if that 1,000 to 1 risk is one that you accept every day you drive, you can expect to be in hospital from that risk within three years.

To take one example, if you cruise along a crowded highway at 50 m.p.h. less than 25 feet from the car ahead, you'll arrive safely, and may never realize there is any danger. But you are in danger even though the odds are long. If the driver ahead makes a panic stop for any reason (and it can and does happen), you will inevitably slam into the rear of his car. In this respect, the control of your safety has passed out of your own hands. Your margin has decreased, unnecessarily, and you are vulnerable. You can restore your margin to a safe level by keeping 80 feet (five car lengths) from the other 50 m.p.h. car.

The good driver doesn't attempt to beat the law of averages. He gets it on his side.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

THE CHICKWEEDS

As if one were not enough, two kinds of Chickweed thrive in Ontario. Common Chickweed, sometimes called just plain Chickweed, is a hardy annual which has the power to reproduce both by seeds and by rooting at the joints of its stems. Mouse-ear Chickweed is a perennial which runs neck and neck with Common Chickweed as the home gardener's number-one weed problem. Both Chickweeds are commonly found growing together in lawns and both succumb to the same control methods, reports the Fields Crop Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Common Chickweed is a low-lying, matted plant, with small, star-like flowers appearing from early Spring to late Fall. The leaves are opposite, smooth and oval-shaped with fairly long stalks.

Mouse-ear Chickweed is similar to Common Chickweed, but easily distinguished from it. The plants are covered with downy hairs which collect dust, giving them a dirty appearance.

Chemical controls are available for the Chickweeds but, rather than spray these weeds after they are established, it is better to try to keep them out of lawns by using high grade grass seed and adequate fertility, so that the grass will grow quickly and thickly and crowd the weeds out.

The Chickweeds are quite resistant to 2,4-D. For this reason it is advisable to use a mixture of 2,4-D and potassium cyanate. Mix 1 ounce of 2,4-D amine and 4 ounces of potassium cyanate in 4 gallons of water. Spray to dampen the lawn but keep the spray off all shrubbery.

Apply on a calm day in Spring or Fall, when weeds are growing rapidly. This treatment will brown the grass but it will soon recover. A word of warning: do not use 2,4-D on bent grass lawns.

A new chemical called Kuron also will control Chickweeds. It should be applied at the rate of 1½ lbs. in 30 gallons of water per acre or 1 ounce in 5 gallons of water per 2,300 square feet. This chemical should be used in late October or March.

JUNE BEETLES IN THE NEWS AGAIN

June beetles are in the news again — that's the big, brown beetle that flies so clumsily, making so much noise — there are reports of great swarms of them from all over the province.

June beetles have become quite a nuisance and they cause a lot of damage — particularly when they are in the larval or white grub stage. In no time at all, these nasty little critters can turn your lawn from a nice lush carpet of green into a dull lifeless, brown mat.

But you don't have to endure white grubs — you can do something about them. In fact, you can control them up to three years with just one treatment. That's because the June beetle has a 3-year life cycle. First the adult lays the eggs — then two or three weeks later the eggs hatch into white grubs. The white grubs feed all the rest of the summer on decaying vegetable matter and the roots of living plants — namely your grass! The grubs spent the winter deep in the soil, then in the spring they push their way up to just under the surface of the soil. Then they start their second season as grubs and this is when they do the most damage — feeding ravenously all summer long. The third year of the cycle, the white grubs feed as before, then turn into the adult beetles which stay in the soil till the next spring when they emerge and start the cycle all over again.

Now, if you can kill off all the grubs and adult June beetles in your lawn in one year, it follows that you have a pretty good chance to be relatively free of grubs for three years.

There are several good white grub controls on the market, but the best of them contain dielidrin, a high potency insecticide that kills all stages of June beetle development quickly and easily. You just spread the dielidrin insecticide evenly over the grass then wash it into the turf with a good soaking from the hose. That's all there is to it, and your lawn is protected from white grub damage for up to three years.

But here's something you should keep in mind. Most folks don't know that their lawns are infested with white grub until the damage is done, then it's too late and they have to start their lawns all over again. To make sure you are not wasting your efforts this year, treat your lawn against white grubs now, even though there may be no indication of white grub activity yet — as they say, it's better to be safe than sorry.

VETERINARIAN TELLS SOME WAYS TO AVOID FARROWING TROUBLES

Veterinarians attending refresher courses at the Ontario Veterinary College recently heard Dr. J. Henderson talk about preventing farrowing troubles. Some of his ideas might interest you.

For instance, take sow constipation after farrowing and its effect upon milking ability. Dr. Henderson believes the most common reason is that "a farmer doesn't know the date she is going to farrow and so doesn't cut back her feed during the last week, especially the protein."

"Another reason is that the sow doesn't get enough exercise," explains the veterinarian. "Some farmers think their land can be put to better use, so they always leave their sows on concrete, instead of grass. Experiments have shown that not only does a sow farrow bigger and healthier litters if she gets lots of exercise, but she's often free of constipation troubles too."

To avoid constipation troubles, he advises: "Cut down on regular rations and feed a bran or laxative — start the week before she farrows. Don't give any feed the day she farrows — all she needs is one drink of water immediately after she gives birth. It's best to get the sow up and make her walk so that she urinates and defecates freely. This activity helps prevent caked udders."

"A sow doesn't have to produce a lot of milk — therefore keep her slightly underfed and in a laxative state with oily laxatives or bran," suggests Dr. Henderson.

The sow may not milk because of infection in one or more quarters or because the young pigs are unhealthy, states the veterinarian. One cure is to give the sow pituitin to start her milking.

"Sometimes pituitin won't work. Some sow families are slow udder developers and the situation is hereditary. Also, ergot poisoning may merely inhibit udder development without making the sow abort her pigs. Try an antibiotic after the pituitin and a laxative to clean the sow out," he suggests.

Sow hysteria might be a factor too. The veterinarian mentioned that tranquilizers won't work 100 percent of the time. Some sows will go to sleep and allow nursing; others will wake up and go right after the young pigs.

FOUR WAYS TO DEHORN CALVES

While some cattlemen prefer to dehorn their cattle as yearlings — large numbers can be handled at one time that way — more and more breeders are now convinced that calf dehoring pays.

Dehorning calves offers a lot of advantages, says Livestock Specialists of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Not only are calves easier to hold and control, but they aren't set back as much as yearlings that are dehorned, and there's less danger of bleeding or infection.

Which method is best? Prof. G. E. Raithby, Head of the O.A.C. Department of Animal Husbandry, stresses that no one method is superior in all respects; the choice rests with the individual. He notes that while caustic is the cheapest, it might be the riskiest to use; electric dehorners do a good job, but take a bit of skill; gougers or Barnes dehorners can handle the widest age range of calves (gouging too deep, however, can cause narrow polis); and while the elastrator can be used as a dehoner, it takes a long time to do the job and the calf may suffer a setback.

All four methods will work. Perhaps some of the following suggestions from the Department's Livestock Specialists will help you do a better job.

The use of caustic or other chemicals kills the horn cells in the button-like rudiments before the calf is 10 days old. The caustic stick containing potassium or sodium hydroxide is cheaper than the paste or liquid, but is a bit more risky. It has to be wrapped with paper or cloth to protect your hands.

Clip the hair around the horn button and place a ring of vaseline around the base of the button to protect the surrounding skin from the caustic. Then, moisten the tip of the caustic stick and rub it over the button until the skin begins to slip and blood appears. The whole button must be covered.

It's probably best to leave the calf tied for at least half an hour after treatment. This allows plenty of time for the caustic to take effect and prevents other calves from licking the treated area. Surplus caustic is then removed and treated calves kept in separate pens for a day to prevent rubbing the caustic on the skin and into the eyes of other calves.

Similar methods are used with the paste or liquid, except that the paste is applied with a paddle and the liquid with a small brush. One caution: keep caustic well-sealed and away from children.

Electric dehorners are recommended for calves from 4 to 6 weeks of age. They don't work well on calves older than 8 weeks.

One method is to clip the hair closely around the horn while the iron is heating to a temperature of from 900 to 1000 degrees. The dehoner is similar to a high temperature soldering unit with the iron being round and hot at the end. After about 10 minutes the desired temperature should be reached and the horn ring should be reddish in color before use.

Place the hollow end of the dehoning ring over the horn and rotate it slowly until the cap of the horn can be clipped off. This takes about 10 seconds if you have a good hot iron. Then, by using the side of the dehoner, burn the horn-producing cells under the cap.

If the electric dehoning job is done thoroughly, (at the right age), the calf develops an attractive wide poll. This is the shape popular in beef cattle though some dairymen prefer a more prominent poll.

Gougers or Barnes dehorners are best used when calves are less than 3 months old. The horns will still be developing and won't be attached to the skull.

The main advantage to these instruments is that the age range is greater than for the caustic and electric dehoning systems, and therefore more calves can be dehorned at one time. This is practical for large herds but not so with small numbers of calves.

The main thing to watch is to not let the sharp edge which gouges out the button gouge too deeply. A poorly skilled farmer might find a lot of his animals with rather narrow polls.

The elastrator method isn't too well regarded because it often doesn't do a thorough job and might cause gain setbacks because it's so slow. There's always a risk of the elastic being broken. Also, it's hard to tell if the elastic is strong enough to cut off the circulation so that all horn growth is stopped.

HOW TWO DAIRYMEN GOT FREE BUILDING ADVICE

Archie Campbell, of Maxville, and Art Fisher, of Bainsville, had similar building problems last October. Both these Ontario dairymen wanted to get away from stable milking and were seriously considering the new "angle parking" herringbone milking parlor.

Campbell was milking 20 cows and hoped to be able to milk 50 in his new barn, milking parlor, and milk house setup. Fisher had an old "French style" barn with a single row of stalls; he was milking 30 cows but it took a lot of walking. This is how they went about deciding on the herringbone parlor:

After looking over the literature on various commercial in-line and herringbone milking parlors, Campbell contacted his County Agricultural Representative, who in turn got in touch with Ontario Department of Agriculture Farm Building Specialist, Larry Donoghue. Fisher contacted Donoghue directly, because his brother-in-law had remodeled his own barn using Donoghue's blueprints, and he was familiar with the farm building service.

Here are some of the types of assistance these two farmers received from the Farm Building Specialist:

He supplied working blueprints of the milking parlor, using a combination of the company's plans and materials tested by the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture.

He advised them that while the herringbone parlor (Fisher settled on an 8-cow, Campbell on a 12-cow setup), was compact with good labour efficiency, it had some disadvantages, too. An 8-cow herringbone parlor only 21 feet long could probably do the work faster than a 6-stall in-line parlor almost 50 feet long; but if cows vary in milkout time, the job could take longer than in the walk-through parlor, because all cows on a side must be released at the same time.

He suggested that Campbell (who, like Fisher, delivers in cans to the Montreal market), not try to handle the milking chores and the cans in the milk house alone. With too much rush, you can't do a good job of milking.

Hastings 4-H Club Members Visit Islands

On Saturday, June 27th, one hundred and twelve 4-H Agricultural and 4-H Homemaking Club members and Club Leaders from Hastings County went on a bus trip. This year the points of interest included the Thousand Islands and Old Fort Henry.

Leaving Belleville at 9:00 a.m. three buses started on their way to Gananoque. Plans had to be changed slightly as the fog had still not lifted after arriving there. After everyone had eaten their lunch a two hour cruise through the Thousand Islands proved to be most interesting and educational. Many of the 1865 Islands which lie in this area were seen. The exclusively built residences and recreational places on them made for some camera action. Narrow water passages often necessitated slowing the boat down considerably.

From Gananoque the group headed back to Kingston and toured Old Fort Henry. This took about an hour and a half. With the Queen visiting the Fort and Kingston one day later, a special array of colour was seen almost everywhere. After having supper in Kingston the group started home, arriving back in Belleville at 8:00 p.m. There was evidence that every person found the trip both enjoyable and educational.

Twilight Meeting Holstein Breeders

TWILIGHT MEETING

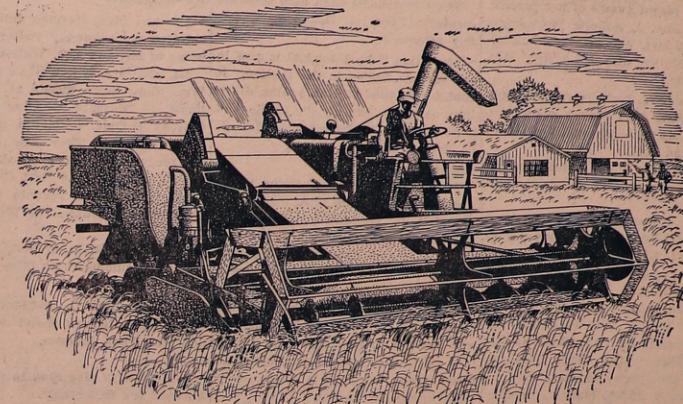

On Wednesday evening, June 25th, some 175 Holstein Breeders, 4-H Members and friends gathered at the farm of George Burkitt and family to hold the Annual Hastings County Holstein Twilight Meeting.

One of the highlights of the evening which took place on the spacious lawns and which made a most satisfactory out-door theatre was the illustrated travellogue given by Miss Betty Grills, Belleville, on her trip to Europe and England at the time of the World Hockey Championship Series. Her pictures and comments certainly helped to give those present a clearer, broader picture of some of the European countries.

Mr. Gerald Nelson, Holstein Fieldman for the District, was in charge of the Holstein Judging Classes and was assisted by S. MacDonald and C. J. Nesbitt. As the members of several 4-H Calf Clubs were present, he gave a very full type demonstration. The winners of the three sections were: The ladies, Miss Norma Hanes, Belleville; Mrs. Anna Moore, Belleville, and Mrs. Delbert McComb, Belleville; the men, Philo Harris, Madoc; Hugh Gray, Belleville, and Douglas Harry, Trenton; the 4-H members, tied for first, Keith Thompson, Corbyville, and Bill Vermilyea, Belleville; tied for second, Ron Hamilton, Trenton, and Bill McKeown, Campbellford.

The evening was under the capable chairmanship of Mr. Hudson Ketcheson, Foxboro, President of the County Club, and was assisted by various members of the association.

Council Starts Necessary Action To Close Portion of Rear Street

Meeting Held On Monday Night — Police Asks For Relocation Warning Signs

Notice was given at the regular meeting of Council on Monday night of the introduction of the necessary bylaw to close that portion of Rear Street between Lots 17 to 24 inclusive on the south and Block E on the north. This action is being taken to provide for the proposed addition to the Stirling-Rawdon District High School.

Reeve K. Ray presided and Councillors W. J. Morton, C. Bateman and H. R. Tompkins were in attendance.

To Relocate Signs

The report of Police Chief Wm. Sutherland was presented and adopted on motion of Councillors Morton and Bateman. Chief Sutherland also asked that Council take the necessary action to have the warning signs regarding speed of vehicular traffic placed at the village limits on the Frankford Road and the Belleville Road. In the case of the former the sign was too far out and the latter was too far inside the limits, stated Chief Sutherland. He also requested his annual vacation September 7th to 21st, stating arrangements would be made for policing the village during his absence. His request was granted.

Correspondence was tabled from the Kingston office of the Ontario Department of Highways announcing the appointment of R. Sim as assistant District Engineer; and from the Department of Transport, respecting stop streets. The local bylaw will be checked and any necessary revisions made at a later meeting of Council.

Engineers' Fees

Clerk Mallory reported receipt of $943.39 as Stirling's share of the grant towards support of the Children's Aid in the County. He also reported the receipt of $10,100 from the Ontario Water Resources Commission, being the amount paid by the Village for engineering fees prior to the commencement of the sewerage project.

The audit on Stirling's Streets Requisition to the Ontario Department of Highways was tabled and a letter from the local Public Utilities Commission notifying Council that the Commission would not contribute further to the employment of a sewerage inspector.

The matter of insurance on the old Rugby fire truck was discussed and it was decided to discontinue the same.

Asks Council Action

W. Hamilton of Belleville, a subcontractor on the local sewerage project, addressed Council relative to the amount owing him and expressed his conviction that Village Council should take a more active part in seeing that the sub-contractors were paid. A lengthy discussion ensued with members of Council agreeing that everything possible should be done to protect the interests of the sub-contractors. With this in mind an effort will be made to arrange an interview with the Ontario Water Resources Commission to ascertain what, if any, action may be taken by Council.

The following accounts were passed for payment:

John Sheridan, $10.00; Carl Bosiak, sign, $100.00; McIntosh & Wells, $21.50; W. L. Pollock, $50.00; M. Tanner, $11.63; Alex Bush, $32.00; F. A. R. McFadden, $500.00; F. R. Mailly, $18.11; M. Tanner, $22.18; Stirling Motor Sales, $16.75; Montgomery's Service Station, $18.55; Rosco Metal and Roofing, $71.94; Bell Telephone, $81.10; Thos. McGee, $18.00; Harry Morrow, $9.00; R. A. Patterson, $44.50; Wm. Sutherland, $70.80; I. Parberry, $10.00; Hatton Hardware, $11.83; A. Elliott, $75.00.

Councillor Tompkins reported that the drain from the Community Building was not working properly with the result that the boiler room was flooded after every rain. The Property Committee was authorized to have the drain dug up and necessary work done to overcome the situation.

Councillor Bateman tabled requests for corrugated tile for entrances to properties. The Street Committee will have charge of the matter.

Clerk F. R. Mallory was authorized to advise the Stirling-Rawdon District High School Board that Council would accept the Board's offer of $1500 for the purchase of Lot 17 and that part of Rear Street which is to be closed.

Following the discussion of a number of minor items Council adjourned.

Stirling W.I. Members Enjoy Holiday Trip

(By Mrs. L. Bronson)

On Wednesday of last week the members of the Stirling Women's Institute took their annual pleasure trip, the courtesy of their efforts during the past year.

With capable and pleasant drivers the group left the Stirling Community Hall at 9:00 a.m. Turning to the Iroquois trail, when nearing Frankford the scenery is unsurpassed along the canal and riverside, viewing its many will-be homes under construction. Then we approach the more garden cultivation districts, with fields of peas and tomatoes, crimson trees with cherries, depicting this land of ours can produce just about anything growable. Fruit stands of farmers are already disposing of their strawberries. Beds of flowers are everywhere just as a competition — who can grow the best — with clusters of rainbow colours allotted to each home.

Now we have reached the turn to climb the hill to "Lake on the Mountain." Pictures were taken here. Looking down on the water was indeed a picture. Several enjoyed refreshments at the spacious and up-to-date tea room.

Returning to the main road we soon were driving onto the ferry. Here again we saw beautiful shore lines bordered with trees and from the back of the ferry, the depth of the height of the Lake-on-the-Mountain. Houses were nestled and a church steeple reaching toward the skies made a magnificent picture.

After leaving the ferry we were reminded of a place of interest — the cemetery at Adolphustown. With hard work and planning this place of interest is well worth anyone's time to visit these sacred grounds. The only living creation was a wide thick row of flaming red florabunda roses, growing in peace and quietness in this hallowed place.

We then visited the St. Albans Church at Adolphustown. How very inviting it was to find the door open — this alone expressed "welcome". Vases of freshly arranged white peonies were placed here and there. Here again flowers expressed living.

Here we pause to ask, why are churches locked? It should be God's sanctuary, a place for the puzzled mind to see and feel for himself the divine touch of the portals of the church and the passer-by may wish to enter to pray. Perhaps not for himself, but for someone dear, that by praying for others they themselves will receive a blessing.

We were attracted by the memorial tablets seen around the walls of this picturesque church at the centennial celebration. The Hon. Beverly Robinson, Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, laid the cornerstone for this church and was then dedicated.

The opening message for this centennial U. E. Loyalists Memorial Service was:

Friend, you enter this church not as a stranger, but as a guest of God. He is your Heavenly Father. Come then, with joy in your heart and thanksgiving on your lips, in His presence, offering Him your love and service. Be grateful to the strong and loyal men who in the name of Jesus Christ built this place of worship, and to all who have beautified it and haloed it with prayers and praises. Be seeked His blessing on those who love this home of faith as the inspiration of their labour, rejoicing in the power of the Holy spirit. And may that blessing rest on you, both in your going out and on your coming in.

At the entrance of the church was the guest book which all signed and each in their own way agreed it was good to enter there in God's Church, restful and peaceful away from the cares of the world.

The one of the two oldest church bells in Canada was outside, far from the tones of chimes, but with its structure and ring it carried with it hours of hard work; but those who had gone leaving behind this memor-teal masterpiece to those that were to follow.

From here we followed along the busy road again rows of homes being erected and scenery along the water that would be difficult to describe. It being past lunch time, all were ready for a good meal — the country air had seen to that. The Colonial Bus Centre was our place for the noontime repast.

Afternoon

Starting in the afternoon we visited the aluminum plant, Kingston. Here we were welcomed by the manager. He showed us a miniature picture of the building layout.

Miss Mann was chosen to supervise our tour with our Secretary Mrs. D. Montgomery, who previous to this had contacted the manager re the tour. Every item proved interesting, commencing with the huge blocks of aluminum to the finished product, even the smallest item, tin foil. Huge machines lifting 25 tons were handled by a single man with ease. The melting pots and the thinning of the sheets with pressure was very educational. Aluminum is used in so many ways in business, little do we housewives realize the work that is in connection with the making of our household appliances. Thanks was expressed to the personnel for their time and information given.

The shopping Centre was the next stop. Women always enjoy a "spot" of shopping. Here it was noticed the stores have their landscaping, shrubs and flowers, which greatly add attractive freshness to their places of business.

Fort Henry was a very busy place, getting in readiness for the Queen.

A spritely university student was allotted for our tour through the ancient rooms. The place was spotlessly clean. One could write at length about this place, but seeing it is much more educational. At the tailor shop in this building had been made a black velvet cushion with gold braid trimmings especially for the Queen's comfort. On departing thanks was expressed to this tactful girl for the long and accurate story of Fort Henry, well given and in such a pleasant way.

Aunt Lucy welcomed us for supper. The menu was packed with goodies of which each one gave it a fair deal. This was our last stop until we reached our homes, with each expressing it was one splendid trip, beautiful day, marvelous scenery, delicious food, unexcelled hospitality at every place, and lastly we can't too highly extend appreciation to our chauffeur, Mr. Green and his assistants, for their careful driving and bearing so patiently with the chatter of a group of women.

Wellman's W.A. Sponsor Successful Lawn Social

A most delightful time was enjoyed by everyone attending the lawn social at Wellman's on Friday evening sponsored by the Woman's Association of Wellman's United Church. The weather conditions were most favourable and the Wellman's school grounds, previously arranged with lights, made a perfect setting for such a social gathering.

Ball Game

The opening event of the evening was a soft ball game held just across from the school grounds in Mr. Wilmott Mabey's field.

It was a scheduled game of the Young People's League between Aikens and Rawdon. The steadfast efforts of the Rawdon team, playing in their regular form, brought them to a 21 to 6 victory over Aikens.

So far this year the Rawdon team are undefeated and continue to show one of the best examples of teamwork one would see displayed in softball. Roger Smith is the very capable captain and every member of the team plays a most co-operative game.

The team consists of Lyle Couch, catcher; Bernard Beckett, first base; Carol Beckett, Janet Tompkins and Jean Tompkins, pitchers or second and third base; Roger Smith, short stop; Marion Reid, Dianne McAdam, Ronnie Heath, David Potts, Allen Fletcher, Richard Dracup, Allen Warren, as alternate fielders.

At all times there must be four girls on the team with a girl pitcher.

Entertaining Programme

Following the ball game everyone proceeded to the school grounds where a most entertaining programme was held. Benches and chairs had been previously arranged for the comfort of the people at this time.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher performed the duties of chairman. The opening number was a trumpet solo by Donald Armstrong, accompanied by Mrs. Gerald Clancy at the piano. This was followed by a piano and accordion number by Mrs. Harry Brown. It was

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

The Annual Report of the Japanese Bible Society records that from 1946 to 1958 a total of 23,282,002 Scriptures were circulated in Japan. The increase in 1958 distribution of 134,027 volumes made the total for that year 1,901,737.

The new Kogotai (colloquial) version accounted for 1,737,630 Bibles, Testaments and Gospels, thus demonstrating the increasing use of this Japanese version in popular speech.

It has been recently said by a prominent Japanese Christian, "I am not so optimistic as to suppose that Japan will be Christianized in the near future. Japanese traditional ideas and customs that have been preserved for more than ten centuries will not yield to new ideas so easily; but I can say with assurance that amidst changing circumstances the Bible has been changing the mind of the people."

PUBLIC TELEPHONES INCREASING

The number of public telephones has more than doubled since the Second World War in the Bell Telephone Company of Canada's territory in Ontario and Quebec. During the war the public telephone moved out doors. The drive-up booth, upper left, installed experimentally in Toronto, is now planned for other centres in Bell territory. The regular outdoor booth, upper right, in addition to serving the motoring public, is also found at drug stores, bus stops, and strategic downtown locations. It appears in sharp contrast to the ornate early model at lower left. Lower right: coins shower Eva Erdos and Florence Dixon in the Montreal collection centre.

River Valley Women's Institute Sponsors Children's Day Program

Approximately sixty women and children attended "Children's Day" at the River Valley School House on July 2nd sponsored by River Valley Women's Institute. A pot luck dinner was served in the school kitchen at noon under the convenership of Mrs. Percy Utman, Mrs. Ross Bush and Mrs. Kenneth Myers and Mrs. Glenn Morrow.

At 2:00 p.m. Mrs. Roy Tucker opened with the Ode and the Mary Stewart Collect. The roll call was answered with a health hint. Mrs. E. Greenley, Trent River, was introduced to the group.

Mrs. George Heasman gave her report. The net proceeds from the recent District Annual was $17.00. Letters were read from Mrs. Gordon Maynard, Secretary-Treasurer of the F.W.I.O. re charter members; from Miss Helen McKecher, re information received for Home and Country. The summer issue of that magazine was distributed. The name of Mrs. E. C. Hay-Ellis was chosen to be a member of the Hastings Historical Society.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Friendship Link Secretary, said Miss Jayne Gay had read her letter re this department over CIBQ. She also told of the Somerset Music Festival and the group from Abbot's Leigh W.I. won one gold, two silver and one green stars.

Mrs. Roy Bush in her A.C.W.W. message, spoke of the unity of rural women for this organization.

It was decided that the Building Committee were to map out the balance of work necessary to complete the kitchen and suggest which is most important to do each year. The varnishing will be done by a voluntary group in the near future. Plans were completed for catering at Hoard's Livestock Sales on July 20th.

The souvenir spoons were displayed and several sold. The August meeting on "Current Events" will be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Morrow.

Programme

Mrs. Percy Utman opened the programme with "O Canada," with Mrs. Ralph Utman as accompanist. Mrs. Kenneth Myers read an article entitled "Land of Our Birth," written by the Observer. Miss Adeline Bush read two selections "My City Fund" and a "Health Prayer." Mrs. Heasman read a very interesting letter from her daughter Jo-Anne who is touring England with the Danforth Songsters.

The Institute provided $8.00 for prizes and treats for the school children. There were seventeen entries in the poster competitions on conservations, health and creative art. The winners were as follows: Grade 1, Stanley Morrow; Grade 2, Sheila Richardson; Grade 3, Georgie Tucker; Grade 4, Allen Carr; Grades 5 and 6, Janny Zuidema; Grades 7 and 8, Lois Morrow. Each entrant received a prize and the pre-school children were given balloons. Later each child received popcorn and candy.

The prizes were distributed by Mrs. Ross Bush and Mrs. Kenneth Myers. Games were conducted on the school lawn and included a peanut scramble. The winners in the Kicking Shoe contests by grades were Allen Carr, Bob Hanna and Jean Zuidema. In the Song Contest, Frances Sager and Alice DeBruyn.

The conveners were given appreciative thanks for their arrangements.

The Good Driver

Good driving should not end at the edge of the lake. A man who switches from car to outboard needs exactly the same qualities if he is to remain a "good driver."

Those qualities are good Attitudes, good Skills, good Habits, and good Knowledge, says the Ontario Safety League.

First in importance for those who handle small pleasure craft is good ATTITUDES. Such as a mature outlook. A proper sense of caution. Courtesy — especially towards swimmers, and those in smaller boats. Helpfulness and tolerance towards all other water users (and even misusers!), and a due regard for the rights and comfort of those on shore who might be affected by noise, wash and jetsam.

Great SKILL is not of paramount importance for small craft handlers. But it is important, nevertheless. Work at developing your skill — many people and organizations will be glad to assist. In addition, to being safer, it is much more satisfying to know you are doing exactly the right thing when you are directing horsepower — whether it be car or outboard.

Good HABITS are important because they protect against the unseen and unexpected emergency. Get the habit of doing the right thing always, even though it seems unnecessary. For instance, always make a point of entering a boat in the proper manner: don't jump in, don't move around any more than is necessary. When you have to move, do it quietly and keep your weight as low as possible in the boat. The important thing is to develop the correct habit by paying equal care to these points in all conditions. Use the same caution in moving in a boat in shallow water, ten feet from the shore, as you would a mile out in the lake in a high wind. Check to see all safety equipment is in good condition, however short the trip. That way you build and strengthen the correct habit. Remember that every exception weakens the habit. Every time you "don't bother this time" you weaken the habit that may one day protect you in an emergency.

The fourth element of good boat handling, KNOWLEDGE, can be acquired in several ways. By instruction, and observation. Through the hard and often costly, school of experience. Or by reading. In this last category a booklet that should be in the hands of every small boat owner, and every one who ever takes the controls of a power boat, is "Safety Afloat." It may be obtained, without charge, by application to the Department of Transport, Ottawa.

WILLIAM DREWRY

This community was shocked to learn of the sudden passing of William Drewry, well known farmer of Rawdon Township, on Thursday afternoon last. Stricken with a heart attack at his home, Harold, R.R. 1, he died before medical aid could be summoned.

Born in Rawdon Township, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Drewry, he had been a life-long resident of the area and was in his 78th year. He was engaged in farming and was well known and highly respected in the community.

Mr. Drewry was a member of Emmanuel Temple in Frankford and is survived by his wife, the former Alberta Rodgers; one son, Donald Drewry at home; two sisters, Mrs. William Flick, of Del Ray Beach, Florida; Mrs. Evelyn Elgie, of Belleville; and four brothers, Frederick Drewry, of Toronto; Everett, of Port Burwell; Earl, of Detroit, Mich., and Gordon, of Rochester, N.Y. Also surviving are two grandchildren.

The funeral was held in the chapel of the Duffin Funeral Home, Stirling, on Saturday, July 4th, at 2:00 p.m., with Rev. R. P. Spurrell officiating.

The pallbearers were Messrs. K. Mumby, Geo. Martin, Chas. Morton, Joe O'Neil, Claude Tucker and Chas. Vance.

Interment in Stirling Cemetery.

Horticultural Society Hints

Your lawn is perhaps the most important feature of your garden. If it's lush, green and elegant, it will make a superb outdoor setting for your whole house.

Fertilizing is important. Use one recommended by a reliable plant nursery. Remember that fertilizer can burn your lawn, so water well after each application. Lawn weeds may trouble you, especially pesky fine leafed ones. But don't be discouraged — you can buy weed killers to destroy almost every variety.

How about mowing? Most good grass seeds contain Kentucky blue grass which do not like to be cut too short. By setting your mower 1 1/2 to 2 inches high, keeping the blade sharp and cutting your lawn often, it will stay neater and look more luxuriant.

When you cut often you can leave the cuttings right on the lawn. They won't show and they will help keep the ground moisture from evaporating.

Your flower beds and lawn will grow better and look better if you are able to water them heavily about once a week. Sprinkling, unless sustained for a long period just dampens the top of the soil, forcing the plant roots to come to the surface where they can easily be scorched in the drying earth.

Nevr water when the sun is at its hottest, because it soaks up the moisture and burns your plants. Water flower beds in early morning or early evening when the sun is not too hot. Don't water in late evening because water will remain on the plants overnight and cause mildew.

Lawns on the other hand can stand a heavy soaking in the evening to a depth of 6 inches and newly seeded areas should never be allowed to dry out completely.

Contract Let For New Hangar And Pump House

Announcement has been made by Lee E. Grills, Member of Parliament for Hastings South, that the contract for the erection of a new Cantilever Hangar and Pump House, with reservoir, at the Trenton Air Station, has been awarded to the Carter Construction Co., Ltd., of Toronto, the lowest bidder.

The amount of the contract is close to four million dollars and, according to Mr. Grills, local labour will be used on this project whenever available. Construction will start later this year.

Springbrook Woman's Assoc.

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent on Thursday, July 2nd in the basement of Springbrook United Church when the members of the Woman's Association met for their regular meeting. A good attendance was present as each member had invited a guest. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Gerald Broadworth and Mrs. Ralph Wellman.

With the President, Mrs. Carman Sine in charge, a hearty welcome was extended to all. The meeting opened with the W.A. motto, theme song and prayer.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Lorne Bailey, using as a theme "Reconciliation."

The Scripture Lesson, taken from Matthew 5: 17-24, was read by Mrs. Percy Mumby. Psalm 23 was read in unison. A prayer for Missionary Miss Gould, was given by Mrs. Beare. The lesson thoughts were read by Mrs. Bailey. Following the singing of hymn 49, a prayer and the Lord's Prayer closed the worship period.

The roll call, "A place I would like to visit," was responded to by 21 members and each guest. These responses were varied from near and far and provided much humor.

The members reported 41 cards sent out and 17 calls made. Correspondence was read and dealt with.

Mrs. Reg McKewen reporting for the June Volunteer Visitors, told of 13 calls made on the sick and shut-ins.

The July Volunteers will be Mrs. Charlie Gordian and Mrs. Lorne Bailey. The financial summary of the pot luck supper was given by the Treasurer, Mrs. Frank Cosby, with the proceeds to be given in aid of the Resuscitator for Quin-Mo-Lac Camp.

The reports of the W.A. Convention held at Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, on May 29th were given with Mrs. Edward Bateman reporting for the morning session in the absence of Mrs. George Thompson, while Mrs. Bert McCoy reported on the afternoon session. These reports were both interesting and instructive.

Guest Speaker

Mrs. Sine presented Mrs. Granville Melkilejohn, of Marmora, a past president of Springbrook W.A., as the guest speaker of the day. Mrs. Melkilejohn told of her bus trip and attending Five Oaks. Her talk was much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Sine presented her with a gift in appreciation.

A short programme followed of readings by Mrs. Delbert Fleming in the absence of Mrs. Thomas Webb, Mrs. Percy Mumby and Mrs. John McKeown. Mrs. George Williams favoured with a solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Sine.

The President expressed appreciation at the great response of packages of clothing for the bale for overseas relief.

In the evening at the Field Day Dance the winners of the square dance competition were the Thurlow Juniors. These and various others throughout the County will be forming the teams to represent Hastings County at the Quinte District Junior Farmer Field Day on Saturday, July 18th, at Peterborough.

That evening Miss Isabella Sager, Madoc, won the Miss Hastings' Award. She is very active in Junior Farmer activities, participating in many events as well as having a very enviable community and 4-H record.

HOW TO IMPROVE

The other day my wife tossed a well-known family magazine into the rack with a sigh of distaste. "I'm getting sick and tired of nothing but self-improvement articles. Look, is there a mania abroad or something? Does everybody want to know how to exercise, how to get thin, how to get fat, what to do till the doctor comes, and how to get rid of him when he's finished? Next thing you know they'd be publishing articles like, 'A New Method of Steaming Envelopes Open In Your Pressure Cooker,' or 'How To Remove Warts by Hypnotism,' or 'Hints for Submarine Commanders on How to Organize a Polo Team.' It's ridiculous."

"Don't you want to improve?" I asked, heaping a little coal on the fire.

"Don't try to be smart," she said. "None of us is doing half as well as we know how right now. We don't need information — we need inspiration. I don't need hints on how to do the dishes; I need to get up and wash the darn dishes, that's all. I need to want to wash the dishes, if you know what I mean? You probably don't. You are lucky. You like banging at a typewriter!"

From years of experience at being a husband, I didn't protest that there are countless times when I would rather be at a pool table or a lakeshore than at my typewriter. And, of course, there is research to do. In every person's job, I suppose, there is some sort of equivalent to washing dishes. But my wife was dead right about the surplus supply of people telling other people how to do this, that, and the other thing.

Still, we all want to improve. Isn't there some specific way to do it, that could be told simply, once and for all? Wouldn't a general principle cover dish washing, writing, exercising and all the rest, so we could have done with this rash of how-to-improve articles?

I don't know. But my father had some general principles I think come close to the matter. He insisted that you couldn't afford to be careless at anything, even unimportant things.

Do your best all the time was his motto. That forms the habit. You improve on yourself automatically then, at everything you do, even fishing, swimming or recreation.

I have often thought what a wonderful nation we could build here if all of us followed that one principle, and did our level best at all times. Lately it has seemed that we have reversed it, doing just enough to get by.

I thought about that a good deal while I was helping my wife with the dishes. Got so deep in thought I was startled when she said, "Look, if you are going to dry the dishes — dry them right! And stop dripping soapy water on the floor!"

THE FOOD BASKET

NO WASTE IN PORK TENDERLOIN

There are many cuts of pork — all good — but perhaps the best of all is the tenderloin. Because it is all fine-grained, tender, lean meat with no waste, pork tenderloin often is well worth the extra cents a pound it costs over other cuts.

Pork tenderloin may be bought either whole or cut in thick slices which are sometimes "Frenched" (or flattened) to make the slices larger and thinner. Whole tenderloins on the average weigh from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ of a pound and vary in length from about 7 to 10 inches.

Two whole tenderloins when split lengthwise, stuffed with bread stuffing and tied together — then roasted, will provide 4 to 6 servings. The stuffed tenderloin is excellent when sliced and served cold, too, and it makes a fine filling for lunchbox sandwiches.

"Frenched" tenderloin may be braised, panfried or baked and breaded tenderloin is a popular entree on many restaurant menus. To make breaded pork tenderloin, dip the "Frenched" slices in flour seasoned with salt and pepper, then in egg (mixed with 2 tablespoons of water) and finally in dry, fine bread crumbs. Cook similarly to fried chicken — in about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch layer of hot fat in skillet — until outside is crisp and golden and meat is fork tender, 20 to 25 minutes.

Directions for the other cooking methods mentioned for pork tenderloin are included in the book "Meat, How to Buy — How to Cook" available for 50 cents from the Queen's Printer, Ottawa, Ontario. This interesting and informative book contains cooking directions for all cuts of pork and many tempting recipes you will want to try while pork is so plentiful and reasonable in price (e.g. Sweet and Sour Spareribs, Boiled Pork Hocks, Glazed Ham, Stuffed Pork Chops and Tourtiere).

FIRE PREVENTION

When going into the woods, remember and do your bit to protect the forest from fire. It doesn't take very much to transform a beautiful forest into a fire wasted area — just one carelessly thrown live match or cigarette butt, an improperly extinguished camp fire. One thoughtless, careless moment can cause a dangerous forest fire.

The following is a reminder to anyone going into the woods, of these sound rules of precaution against forest fires: Brown camp fires completely; use safety lighters; use vacuum bottles and remember it's bad business to smoke and walk through the woods. Stop when you want to smoke. Don't throw bottles in the bush, the sun may focus through them and start a forest fire.

Help prevent forest fires.

Are Atlantic Salmon

Returning To Lake Ontario

On June 12th, commercial fisherman Glen VanCott, of Picton, found a most unusual fish in his nets. A big silver fish with scattered small black spots, it weighed 15.9 pounds and measured 35 inches from snout to tail tip. The fish was brought to Picton where it was identified as a male Atlantic Salmon. Scale samples were examined and its age placed at 4 years.

Lake Ontario was once the home of a land-locked form of the Atlantic Salmon (Salmo salar). These fish lived in the lake, apparently reaching large sizes, and returned to the rivers entering the lake to spawn. They were considered extinct in the lake by the end of the 19th century. The first public fish breeding station in North America was created in 1866 at Newcastle to stop the decline of these fish by stocking, but all efforts failed. Again just after World War II Atlantic salmon rehabilitation was attempted at Duffin's Creek, and these plantings again failed to restore a spawning population.

Most salmon which normally live in the sea and run to fresh water to spawn have been found capable of maturing in fresh water if thus restricted, although the rate of growth is usually slower. A number of attempts to introduce the Spring or Chinook Salmon (Oncorhynchus tshawytscha) as a substitute for the Atlantic Salmon were made in Lake Ontario. In the periods 1878-91 and 1919-25, over 2 million of these fish were planted in various streams tributary to the Canadian side of Lake Ontario. These fish were caught occasionally until the early 1930's but apparently never gained a foothold.

More recently, the New York State Conservation Department has been trying to restore the salmon to the once famous Salmon River in Oswego County, N.Y. A planting of Atlantic Salmon was made in 1952 and in 1956, 2,250 yearling salmon, from east coast stock were planted at an average length of 3.5 inches. It was from this planting that Mr. VanCott's fish came. That survival may have been good from this planting was attested by the fact that several 5 pound salmon were recaptured last year in and around the mouth of the Salmon River by anglers. This stock will soon mature (Atlantic salmon do not die after first spawning) and the sight of the big fish returning to their home stream to bring forth their own progeny is being eagerly anticipated. In the meanwhile, plantings are continuing.

audio-video tape recorder. They present details of absolutely everything you see and hear — whether you notice it or not.

While probing the brain of one girl with electrodes, she related to Dr. Penfield, every detail of a terrifying childhood experience. As soon as contact was removed, the story stopped abruptly. When the same point was touched again, the story did not continue, but started over again. Dr. Penfield told Dalrymple, "Many patients have said that the experience brought back by the electrode is much more real than remembering."

Obesity, sex deviation and epilepsy have been known to result in people, occasionally, after major brain surgery. Last November, researchers reported that minute brain tissue damage had been definitely linked with some types of sex deviation.

Today, scientists and psychiatrists are convinced that crime and brain damage go hand in hand. At hospital in England, it was found that of 105 murderers studied, three out of four had abnormal brain patterns.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

TIPS ON HOW TO PICK YOUR BEST FEED BUY

Ontario farmers have been deluged for years with terms like TDN, PROTEIN PERCENTAGE, ENERGY VALUE, and the like.

Not only are these seeding value terms misunderstood by a lot of farmers but often too little consideration is given to price comparison of different kinds of feeds. Perhaps these ideas from livestock specialists of the Ontario Department of Agriculture will help.

Let's look at TDN, for instance. Usually you read or hear it as a "percent" measure. This "percent" figure simply means "that part of a feed that's used by livestock for meat, milk, wool, or work and does not pass through as manure." In other words, it's a measure of the energy value of the feed.

Protein also provides energy and is part of that TDN percent, but it's usually considered separately. Why? Because it's needed in comparatively large amounts for growth and milk production. It's more expensive too, than other energy sources.

Some feeds are low in protein but high in TDN (for example, grains); others are comparatively high in both protein and TDN (oil meals, for instance). If you need protein in your ration, here's how to figure the cost per pound of protein for different oil meals.

Assume soy bean oil meal is selling for $3.65 per 100 pounds. The protein percentage is about 44%. Divide $3.65 by 44 to get 8.3 cents per pound of protein. Now suppose 35% protein oil meal is selling for $3.50 per 100 pounds. Divide $3.50 by 35 to get 10 cents per pound protein. At these prices soy bean oil meal is the best buy — it's 1.7 cents cheaper.

When you're buying energy feed such as grain you compare the cost per pound of total digestible nutrients (TDN). If corn is priced at $2.50 per 100 pounds and has a TDN of 80%, divide $2.50 by 80 to get a price of 3.1 cents per pound of TDN.

Is molasses a better buy? Assuming molasses with a TDN of 60% sells for $3.75 per 100 pounds, divide $3.75 by 60 to get a price of 6.2 cents per pound of TDN. Obviously corn is a better buy.

Naturally, some consideration will have to be made for transportation costs, storage, and palatability before you can settle on the cheapest according to feed value. Other grains and meals will have to be compared too. Your Agricultural Representative or feed dealer will have tables showing the various TDN and protein percentages for other feeds.

HOW ONE FARMER BOOSTS HAY AND PASTURE YIELDS

Just saying, "you get more milk from heavy feedings of high quality roughage" mightn't mean too much if you're short on cows and long on land. But when you're in a spot like Renfrew County dairyman, Arnold Cardiff, with a 140 cow-calf herd — and only 170 acres to grow feed — you've got to figure out every step if you want to follow the high-roughage plan.

That's what a lot of Eastern Ontario Agricultural Representatives learned recently when they had a close look at some of the top-notch farms in that part of the Province. Cardiff's ideas interested them especially, because many of his ideas could be adapted to farms in their own counties.

Take Cardiff's system of moving electric fence. He claims his cows get more grass when they're moved daily to a new strip, but he was spending too much time setting up fence every day. He cut time two ways. First, he welded triangular wings of flat iron to the side of the posts. These allowed him to press the posts in with his feet; also, the point of the triangle that entered the ground prevented the post from twisting. Next, he simply twisted the wire around the insulators rather than use wire clips. A point of interest: Cardiff finds he can use cheap baling wire instead of more costly galvanized wire, if he oils the wire.

The Renfrew farmer believes that brome-alalfa mixtures give him the best hay and pasture yields; last year he put up 10,000 bales. To get good brome stands he mixes his seed with ammonium phosphate and a sand filler on a tarpaulin, then surface broadcasts through a drill followed by a cultipacker.

Cardiff thinks he can buy Western grains cheaper than he can grow his own. That's part of the reason he cuts his nurse crops as green feed. This year he even seeded some of his mixtures without a nurse crop. He finds he gets better pasture stands on clean fields that way.

To avoid loss of nitrogen in the pile, he builds long, 7-foot high heaps and packs them. From litter carriers in the stable, the manure is dumped on the front-end loader of his tractor and dropped on the pile. He then drives the tractor up on the heap and packs it.

In the spring, he claims, there is absolutely no ammonia odor even if the pile is open for a day. The manure is spread in the spring and fall on every pasture and hayfield. It only goes on pastures after the first flush, because as he believes the manure helps hasten the second flush. The fields react quickly to the manure because it becomes part of the soil within two weeks. Cardiff thinks the secret is in the shavings he uses for bedding — they break down more quickly than straw. He buys shavings for 25 cent a half ton truck load.

Other pasture-hay ideas he uses are:

— He grows peas, bales them (pods and all) for green feed during the poor pasture months.

— He can boost yields with irrigation if the prices warrant it. This year he finds he is producing up to 10 cans above his 12-can quota, and the surplus milk prices don't merit the extra cost of irrigation.

— He clips the pasture closely before spreading manure to keep the manure close to the ground.

FARM PAY GAP WIDENS

The gap between wages in agriculture and in other industries is widening.

The average Canadian hourly wage for agricultural workers amounted to 91 cents in January and 95 cents in August last year, reports the Economics Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, quoting D.B.S. figures.

During both months, the average wages in mining were $1.96 per hour, and in the manufacturing industries $1.64 per hour. In construction, the average hourly wages were $1.81 and $1.76 for January and August respectively.

A look at wage increases over the 1953-58 period shows how much the field of agriculture is lagging.

Depending upon the time of year, wages in agriculture rose from 10 to 21 per cent, whereas the increase over the same period for other industries ranged from 21 to 30 per cent.

A similar difference in increase is revealed when the 1958 wages are deflated by the appropriate cost of living indexes, says the Economics Division.

CHICORY

Summers come and go, but come the month of July, and in many parts of Ontario, in fence rows or waste places, along water courses, and sometimes in spring grain will be seen the bright blue, attractive blossoms of the chicory, reports the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. By noon the blossoms close and remain closed until the next morning.

Chicory, blue sailors, blue daisy, or coffee weed, as it is sometimes called, is a perennial with a long thick root. The stems grow two to three feet in height. They are branched and hairy. The flowers are bright blue, nearly two inches in diameter, and are attached direct to the main branches. The juice is milky.

Chicory is the only weed with a large blue flower. Two other blue-blossomed weeds are blue-weed and blue burr, or stickweed. Both these weeds have small flowers.

Frequently cutting or a short rotation of crops keeps this weed pretty well under control.

Effective control can be obtained chemically by spraying with 2,4-D, up to 6 ounces of acid per acre if in spring grain, or 8 to 12 ounces of acid in non-crop areas.

Chicory if eaten in quantity by cows may impart a bitter flavour to the milk. Chicory roots in some countries are dried and roasted and used as a substitute for coffee.

MORE SEED POTATO GROWERS NEEDED

Ontario needs more seed potato growers! Last year 209 Ontario farmers entered 544 fields with 1,660 acres for inspection, states the Field Crops Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. Total acreage passed was 1,102 from 478 fields. Percentage of fields passed compares favourably with those from other provinces, as Ontario was second highest in Canada with 87.8 per cent, as compared to Prince Edward Island with 90.3; New Brunswick with 87.4; Nova Scotia with 78.9; and Quebec with 60.7.

There are excellent opportunities for growers to specialize in seed potato production, especially in Northern Ontario areas. Most growers of commercial potatoes, which account for sixty thousand acres of crop, now buy new seed every year. This requires considerably over a million bags, but only slightly more than 25 per cent of this quantity is available from local growers. It has been proven that good seed can be produced and that it gives satisfactory results.

Seed Potato Certification Service is provided by the Canada Department of Agriculture, which works closely with Agricultural Representatives and other extension personnel of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The following are some of the more important points to consider:

There is no charge.

A minimum of one acre is required, except when the crop is planted in tuber units.

Potatoes other than certified seed cannot be planted on the same farm.

Only certified seed of the foundation class is eligible for inspection.

STOP DAMAGE TO EVERGREENS

To keep your favourite evergreen shrubs and trees "evergreen", it might pay to respect the work of several pests, and treat for their damage before it's too late.

"Many families spend hundreds of dollars on evergreens," says Provincial Entomologist H. W. Goble. "And yet, when insects attack, their damage goes beyond the pocketbook — it means a nasty scar on the appearance of the home grounds."

No doubt everyone is familiar with the small, white, barely visible scales that adorn junipers. All varieties may be attacked, but when sylvan, pfitzer, and irish junipers are doing poorly, look to the juniper scale as the most likely cause.

Try Malathion to thwart the scale. A suggested dosage is 4 tablespoons of wettable powder to 1 gallon of water. Spray this between July 1st and 10th. Malathion is more effective when the temperature is high. Malathion is not recommended for canaertii junipers.

Dead buds or shoots on scots, mugho and red pine, coupled with a general stunted untidiness, can usually be traced to the pine shoot moth.

5% DDT dust, applied with a cloth sack, will offer good protection, especially in the case of small mugho pines. Cheese cloth is suitable, if the mesh is not too coarse — overlapping a few pieces will remedy this. Apply thickly on the new growth every week from June 25th to July 10th.

each year, the average number of acres per farm is increasing and this keeps the total amount of land under cultivation almost constant. With many agricultural products, Canada produces more than can be eaten at home.

What does it all mean? For one thing, says Dr. Abell, it means that fewer and fewer farmers are able to supply more and more non-farmers with essential food and fibre.

The "hired girl" is practically nonexistent and the hired man is no longer found on many farms. Average number of people in each farm family is between four and five — still larger than urban families which average three to four.

Wives Pitch In

Concurrent with the increase in part-time farming, the scarcity of hired men and other factors, there has been a noticeable increase of unpaid female farm labour — probably farm wives and other family members.

"The next census as well as our own observations will help us recognize other changes that are taking place in our rural populations," comments Dr. Abell.

"By being aware of these changes, it will be possible for us to more fully appreciate the important role of the farm family as a vital element in the population of Canada."

I.O.O.F. Contribute Rehabilitation Centre

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Ontario provided funds to build and equip a Woodworking Rehabilitation Centre at the Gravenhurst Sanatorium. This has proven to be of great benefit to the men who are convalescing and their instructors report many fine items being made, even in laid work.

Girls!

The lack of them.

Dr. Helen C. Abell, rural sociologist with the Canada Department of Agriculture, says that free and compulsory education and other far-reaching economic and social changes have brought about some new aspects of rural life.

One phenomenon is that in some areas of Canada there is a scarcity of unmarried women — a cause of concern not only to bachelors, but to community organizations and activities. Thousands of young rural women are obtaining the training and education which fits them for work and professions in urban centres.

Dr. Abell points out that eighty out of 100 Canadians were rural dwellers. In 1956, this figure had shrunk to 33 out of 100 and of these only about half were actually living on farms.

A minimum of one acre is required, except when the crop is planted in tuber units.

Potatoes other than certified seed cannot be planted on the same farm.

Only certified seed of the foundation class is eligible for inspection.

Although there are fewer farms,

The pulp industry's forests are managed according to the best scientific knowledge available.

Employment in Canada's manufacturing industry averaged about 1,300,000 during 1958; peak employment for the industry, achieved during 1957, has been about 1,390,000.

A charming evening ceremony on Thursday, June 18th, united in marriage Dorothy Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williams, Malton, and John Edgar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peel, Churchville. Rev. F. G. Baldisson officiated at the ceremony held in Trinity United Church, Malton. Mrs. Mary Kay Lewis presided at the organ.

For the impressive double ring ceremony, the bride chose a pale blue nylon chiffon street length bridal gown, her circular short veil was held in place with a blue-tiara. The pale blue outfit was tastefully accented by a bouquet of deep red sweetheart roses.

Miss Grace Peel, sister of the groom, attended the bride, gowned in a pink dacron frock with white accessories and a floral bouquet of shaded pink carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was James Williams, brother of the bride. Ushers were Gary Eldridge and David Peel.

For the honeymoon to Ottawa and the Algonquin region, the bride chose a very beautiful lined suit in a striking shade of lipstick red with white accessories. This charming ensemble accented her fair colouring.

A buffet reception for forty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Ray Williams, mother of the bride, received gowned in an attractive royal blue costume with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Robert Peel, mother of the groom, chose as her costume a gown of silver gray lace with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The wedding ceremony and reception was highlighted by the presence of three grandmothers. From Stirling, Ontario, came Mrs. R. H. Williams, grandmother of the bride. The groom had both his grandmothers present, Mrs. L. Peel, from Toronto, his paternal grandmother, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. A. Jergens.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edgar will reside in Churchville.

12th Celebrated At Campbellford On Saturday

About 25 lodges from Northumberland and East Peterborough Counties took part in the Orange Walk at Campbellford on Saturday. The parade of an estimated 1,200 lodge members was one of the largest in some time.

County Master Marvin McComb, of Castleton Lodge, led the parade which formed at the fair grounds. The Campbellford Citizens Band led the group of marchers, with several pipe and drum bands from the various lodges spaced at intervals throughout the marching body.

Mounted on a white charger at the head of the group was Les Little, dressed as King William.

Thomas Edison installed Canada's first generator for industrial lighting at a textile plant in Cornwall, Ont. in 1883.

FORD 1959

SO BEAUTIFULLY RIGHT
IN EVERY WAY

This is the car that makes such beautiful sense for 1959 — because it's designed to meet every kind of driving need today. And that is exactly what it does. Beautifully.

This new Ford has a clean, crisp look — trim and tough — fast on its feet. And it's a big car. But there isn't an ounce of waste fat on it. You don't need a can opener to pry it out of your garage. And it'll fit very neatly between two parking meters. But it's plenty big inside. There's room enough for the whole family to travel clean across Canada with all the ease and comfort that only a big car is able to give you. All the facts point to Ford in '59 . . . and so does the fun!

MULCH

Get a good mulch around your flowers and vegetables and you'll have time to relax and enjoy your garden this summer. When it comes to talking of weeding and watering, a mulch is like an extra hand around the place.

What will a mulch do? First, mulch keeps down weeds to a great extent. What weeds do get through will be weaklings, easily pulled. Mulched ground makes better use of rain that falls and thereby saves on watering. Pouring water into a mulch is like pouring it into a sponge. There is almost no run-off from even the heaviest rains. Once it is in the soil, the moisture is stored there by the mulch which keeps sun and wind from stealing it away.

As a by-product of your mulching efforts, you'll find you are not tracking so much garden mud into the house. Tomatoes, squash, beans, lettuce, cabbage will come from the garden much cleaner if they are mulched. In the case of vegetables that lie on the ground, tomatoes, squash and melons, the rate of ground rot will be reduced. Garden cut flowers will show less mud splash. Last but not least, a mulch gradually unites itself with the soil, becoming life-giving humus and in this way your garden soil becomes better and better.

Different materials can be used for mulch. Pea moss (which is too expensive in the garden in any size), Sawdust, applied 3 inches thick, must be sprinkled with nitrogen fertilizer to balance what it robs from the soil. Good also is straw, grass clippings, last year's leaves, chopped corn stalks, hay, pine needles and dry peat vines. These can be applied thicker as they are loose and fluffy — about 5 or 6 inches.

Bride-To-Be Honoured By Trousseau Tea

A delightful trousseau tea was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Campbell, 88 Chatham Street, Belleville, in honour of her daughter, Miss Joan Campbell, bride of the month.

Red roses adorned the rooms and lovely mixed summer flowers centred the tea table with its richly embossed cream rayon cloth.

Miss Bessie Beatty received the guests at the door and also was in charge of the guest book.

Those who poured were Mrs. Roy Peacock, aunt of the bride-to-be; Mrs. Percy Johnson, also an aunt of the guest of honour, and Mrs. W. H. V. Walker, wife of the Rev. W. H. V. Walker, former pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling.

Those serving included Mrs. Allan Finkle and Mrs. John Brown, assisted by girl friends of the bride-elect. Mrs. Jim Magill, another aunt, assisted in the kitchen.

Mrs. Hugh Lyons, Mrs. Jim Rainie and Miss Lois Richard were in charge of the lovely wedding gifts.

During the afternoon a group of girl pupils from Miss Campbell's school, S.S. No. 3, Thurlow, called to extend their best wishes to her for much happiness in the coming days. —Ontario Intelligencer.

"Give Us A Try Before You Buy"

Mrs. B. Reid Hostess To Stirling W.I.

Mrs. Blanche Reid opened her home to the members and visitors for the July meeting of Stirling Women's Institute on Wednesday afternoon, July 1st.

The President gave words of welcome to all including five visitors. The meeting opened with the singing of the Ode and repeating the Lord's Prayer.

In the absence of the Secretary, Mrs. E. Foster took charge of these duties. "What I learned at the District Annual" was the roll call. Two items of correspondence and a thank you note from the Stirling Horticultural Society were read. A letter was also read from the Scott Home Mission, in an appealing sympathetic way for help to maintain the livelihood of the unfortunate people in that area. Five hundred men are fed daily at this Mission; hundreds of children are without milk for their every day menu, as well as families not finding the right way of living, with unclean surroundings and children being unclean and improperly fed.

The Stirling Women's Institute received from the Village and surrounding community an abundance of clothing for which they are so thankful, but are still calling again for the same generosity. Bales have been sent to this Mission from the Institute but still more are required. Convenors for this project are Mrs. B. Reid, Mrs. W. C. West and Mrs. E. Foster. Baby food and milk are desperately needed. The Stirling W.I. made a nice donation for this and will collect and send clothing at a later date.

The motto of the Women's Institute throughout the world is "For Home and Country." It is their duty and privilege to assist those in need and it is most surprising how far this hand of mercy reaches to aid those who perhaps through no cause of their own have found living and raising a little family very difficult and at times very discouraging. It is up to us to see those hands are filled with the best we can offer.

Mrs. Stanley McMurray claims July 1st her birthday. All joined in wishing her many more anniversaries.

Mrs. Doug Ackers will be hostess for the September meeting at a social evening.

Programme

Mrs. E. Foster presided for the programme, which opened with "The Maple Leaf" and "Land of our Birth." A reading was given by Mrs. McMurray, "How wonderful to say, I Live in Canada." Fathers of our land have given me work and health to enjoy and the privilege of raising my family here. Canada has all good things to offer: Freedom, wealth, happiness and security and at nightfall a peaceful slumber.

Mrs. A. Packman
Guest Speaker

Always a pleasant and most sincere speaker, Mrs. A. Packman chose as her topic, "Hands." Beautifully and wonderfully made, they are God's creation, giving thought to the importance of hands in the business of living. Hands do so many daily chores, the skilled hands, the soft and loving touch of hands, like mother's, that now are resting. Then there are hands that go astray, that are scarred with unclean things and dishonesty. There are also hands never tiring of helping others. Several stories were told to illustrate the many opportunities for hands.

Words of appreciation were expressed to Mrs. Packman for this outstanding address by Mrs. Luella Bronson.

Mrs. G. Mumby spoke briefly in connection with this address, stating more visiting should be done as it seemed to benefit all concerned and time should be taken to do these nice things for others; for in bringing cheer and happiness along life's way to shut-ins and old people we too are blessed and made better people by it.

Mrs. Foster gave a reading, "There will be room in Heaven." This heading alone reveals a brilliant story. Judge not, that ye may be judged, was the synopsis of this reading. Riches mean very little in the House of God.

This was followed by a floral contest which was quite in keeping with the season. The singing of the Queen closed the afternoon's achievements.

A dalny lunch was served by the committee during the social hour.

Mrs. S. McMurray thanked the ladies,

Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Foster for the lunch and interesting programme.

the responsibility of lining the main street (Dundas St. W.) from the bridge west.

The co-operation of Legion Branches and members of the Auxiliaries in neighbouring communities has been requested. It is anticipated that many in this district will be participating.

The Royal Party is expected to arrive at the Trenton Air Station at approximately 6.00 p.m. and will immediately leave by car for Port Hope. The Royal Party will proceed at a very slow rate of speed through the Town of Trenton.

Those who intend to take part, are requested to be at the Trenton Legion Memorial Hall shortly after 4.00 p.m.

BEST BRAKES
Chevrolet is the car that's unmistakably modern in every flowing line! POPULAR SCIENCE magazine has this to say: "In its price class a new high in daring styling".

CHEVROLET'S competitive advantage is its superiority in direct competition carried out by NASCAR. And Chevrolet's Safety-Master brakes save you money on replacements . . . last 66% longer.

BEST ROOM
Interior dimensions reported to A.M.A.* make this abundantly clear. For instance Chevrolet's front seat hip-room is as much as 5.7 inches wider than a major competitor.

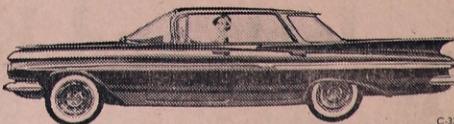

BEST ENGINE
Every motor magazine has given Chevrolet's engine unstinted praise. As SPORTS CAR ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed this device is surely the most wonderful racing engine available today at any price!"

BEST RIDE
MOTOR TREND magazine calls Chevy . . . "the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class". You'll be able to tell this yourself instantly . . . try a Chevrolet ride at your Chevrolet dealer's today!

OF MANY THINGS

(by Ambrose Hills)

STORIES

I have a friend called Charlie Herald. Charlie used to be an orchestra leader, so he got around the country a good deal and heard many a story. Most of us do, but Charlie never forgot one. As a result he is one of the best conversationalists I have ever met. Get him started and he can go on and on, from one story to another. He specializes in stories that are true; and more often than not, they have happened to him personally.

For example, he likes to tell about the time he was in a restaurant in Maple Creek. A little, wizened up man came in and immediately caught Charlie's interest. With him, the little weather-beaten man had a dog about as small and weather-beaten as himself.

"The man sat down at the counter and ordered two steaks," Charlie said. "When they arrived, he put one in front of himself, then cut up the other one and put it down on the floor for his dog."

"That got me. I went over and asked him what the idea was buying an expensive steak like that for a dog."

"Well, he told me he was a sheep herder — he hadn't have told me. I could smell it myself — and that his dog was such a good sheep dog he was better than any six men. 'So once a year,' said the little man, 'I bring him to town and buy him a steak. This just happens to be that day!'"

Charlie has dozens of stories like that. I think things happen to him because he has his eyes open for the unusual. He gets more kick out of life than most men, so life does its best to provide him with grist for his mill.

Once, years ago, looking for a certain shell on a beach, I was having no luck. A friend, further up the beach, was also hunting. When we met, he had three of the precious shells; I had none. I wondered if his eyes were sharper than mine.

He gave me one of his shells, told me to study it very very carefully. I did. He then said that if I would now go hunting I would find one for sure, and sure enough I did. I had a better idea of precisely what I was looking for.

Life is much that way. When you have a very clear idea of what you are looking for, life seems to provide it. Charlie looks for human interest, for the warmth and joy of fellowship. And he finds it, abundantly, as his anecdotes will testify.

The tax rate for Bancroft residents for 1959 is 91.95 mills on residential property and 101.21 on commercial property. The public school rate is approximately nine mills higher than last year.

INEBRIATED

"I certainly had a wonderful time at your party. The last thing I remember clearly was Bill's getting into the grandfather's clock and trying to telephone his girl friend."

Salem United Church, Minto, was the setting on Saturday, June 27th at 2:00 o'clock for a pretty double ring wedding ceremony when Lillian Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mayo, became the bride of Mr. William Jackson, son of Mrs. Stanley Jackson, of Toronto, and the late Mr. Jackson. Rev. H. E. Beare, of Springbrook, assisted by Mr. Stobart, of Ivanhoe, officiated. The church was elegantly decorated with baskets of pink and white peonies, blue cantebury bells mingled with fern. The guest pews were designated by white satin bows.

The radiant bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in an original white imported french lace over satin featuring lily-pointed sleeves. The sweetheart neckline was accented with seed pearls and sequins. From the princess line waist fell tiered lace panels extending into a train. She wore a three-quarter length veil of nylon net held by a seed pearl sequin studded crown and carried sweetheart roses with white satin streamers knotted with rose satin bows.

Jean was attended by her sister, Mrs. Don Seames, of Belleville, as maid of honour, gowned in a blue ballerina length gown of peau de soie with white picture hat and matching gloves and shoes and carried a nosegay of pink 'mums.'

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Dick Goldthorpe, of Toronto, and Miss Gwen Hay, of Minto, friends of the bride, were attired in similar gowns of pastel green and yellow with white accessories and carried nosegays of pink 'mums.'

The flower girl, little Miss Dale Lloyd, of Belleville, niece of the bride, wore a short pink dress similar to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of pink roses.

The ring bearer, Master Billy Jackson, of Toronto, dressed in white trousers and navy blazer, carried a white satin cushion bearing the wedding rings.

Mr. Bob McAfee, of Toronto, brother-in-law of the groom, performed the duties of groomsman. Mr. Leo Roy and Mr. Jack Jackson, both of Toronto, acted as ushers.

Mrs. Vene Hagerman provided the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Master Barry Bray, Ivanhoe, who sang "How Great Thou Art" before the ceremony and "Bless This House" during the signing of the register.

Before leaving the church the bride was presented with a Bible by Mr. Ernest Sarles on behalf of Salem congregation, of which the bride was a valued member.

The reception dinner was held in the church parlours with the ladies of the W.A. catering to approximately ninety guests.

The bride's table was appointed with white damask and centred by a three tiered wedding cake on pillars and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Pink tapers in crystal holders and the bridal bouquets added a delightful nuptial accent.

After a bountiful repast best wishes were extended to the bride and groom by the officiating ministers.

Mr. Bob McAfee acted as toastmaster. Telegrams were received from London, England, Swastika and two telegrams from Bowers Ink Co.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

WILL IT PAY TO BUY
A HAY CONDITIONER?

No one make of conditioner can claim an exclusive on making quick-drying, top-quality hay.

At least not by Ontario Department of Agriculture tabulations. Both the crimper and crusher types were studied, and although hay conditioned by a crusher (smooth roller) dried somewhat faster than that conditioned by a crimper (corrugated roller) type of machine — "The difference wasn't significant."

"Crusher types perhaps don't give as uniform crushing as the crimping types, and some people have difficulty with bunching in front of the smooth rollers," explains Ross Milne, Agricultural Engineering Extension Specialist.

He adds: "Crimper type machines generally operate at higher speeds with less stoppage than the crusher type machine. The crimper type requires 3 to 5 h.p. and the crusher type 8 to 10 h.p. maximum. Horsepower requirements vary somewhat with the crushing pressure and density of the crop."

Milne believes that a conditioner under Ontario conditions could cut hay curing time in the field by 30 to 40 percent. He thinks many farmers could save a day by cutting one day and baling the next — even when the hay is cut early.

Costs? The engineering specialist estimates the $700 to $800 price of a machine is worth it if a farmer takes off more than 30 acres of hay. He believes it eliminates some of the risks of bad weather and states that "compared to non-conditioned hay, carotene level has been found to be 30 to 50 percent higher in bales of conditioned hay, after 5 months, since fewer leaves were weathered."

"It will cost $1.50 per ton for a man with 100 tons of hay a year and $1.00 a ton for a man with 200 tons. This includes depreciation on the machine, tractor and labour. These costs can be reduced considerably by driving the conditioner with a P.T.O. attachment straight through the mower and drawing it behind the mower. This eliminates a second trip over the field," says Milne.

There are some tricks in getting the most out of your conditioner. The engineer suggests that you:

Adjust roll pressure to the type of hay. Springs should be tight enough to make sure that the rollers run wet rather than squeeze out all moisture.

Condition hay within 20 minutes of mowing.

Mow at a high speed to give a uniform swath.

Don't re-condition (for example, after a rain). It often shatters the leaves.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

The harvest season on Canadian farms is 52 weeks long... for death! Each year an estimated 1200 farm people are killed, and over 100,000 injured in accidents.

There is a twist of tragic irony in the fact that so many Canadians lose their lives providing the food without which the country could not live.

And to make the picture more grim the Ontario Safety League points out that the majority of these deaths are somebody's fault — and could be prevented. The main cause of these accidents is human failure — ignorance and carelessness.

Safety organizations across the country are trying to stop accidents on the farm. For the second year Canada will join the U.S. in observing Farm Safety Week, which has been proclaimed for July 19th to 25th. President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker have publicly endorsed the programme.

Every farmer should lend his support, too. As individuals, rural residents can help in the battle against farm accidents by making regular inspections of their homes, buildings, fields, machinery and equipment. A little repair and extra care is most of what it takes to bring safety home to the farm.

As groups, farmers can work for safety too. Rural organizations should make accident prevention a part of their activity. Many farm groups are planning special programmes during Farm Safety Week, and a number of rural ministers will mention the special week at church on July 19th.

July 19th to 25th will be a good opportunity for rural residents to take a few lessons in safety — and then practice them all year.

The theme of this year's Farm Safety Week is, "Safety Makes Sense." Safety does make sense. It ing udders at an early age.

Remove extra teats when the calf is 4 to 6 weeks old. Stretch the teat and snip it off with a clean, sharp pair of scissors and treat with a tincture of iodine.

Guard against Bang's Disease by getting your veterinarian to vaccinate the calves when they're 4 to 6 months old.

WILD CARROT

A Haldimand County farmer and a silo salesman have put together a forage unloader that can toss out 4 tons of chopped grass in 12 minutes. And they did it for less than $2,000.

It's a stationary unloader that's filled from big drive-in dump trucks.

A forage wagon chops grass from windows in the field, and blows it into two 4-ton capacity trucks. The trucks back into the platform of the stationary unloader and dump their load. Slats on the floor of the unloader then carry the grass into the twin beaters at the front of the machine.

From the beaters the grass is conveyed by belt to a blower which tosses it into a big 24x60 foot silo.

"We took a regular self-unloading forage wagon, widened it to 12 feet, pulled off the rear wheels and put a heavy platform in the floor. Five I-beams run the full length of the platform and make it strong enough to support a loaded truck," explains Cayuga steer feeder, L. B. Mehlensbacher.

"The $2,000 saved me over $10,000 in forage wagons (4 of them)," he adds. "My trucks are two weeks on the grass silage, and then they haul sand the rest of the year — so there's no money tied up there."

"Saves me quite a bit of $1.25 labor too. One can stay at the silo and look after two tractors, the unloader and the blower. And about the only trouble we've run into is a bit of bunching between the reels and the blower. We fixed that by putting in a shallow dividing board," says Mehlensbacher.

Comments Halton County Agricultural Representative, Gordon Skinner: "Bruce (Mehlensbacher) isn't going out on the limb and recommending it to every farmer, but to those thinking about putting up lots of silage fast, it's worth their interest. And judging by the number of farmers I've brought out to see his setup, there is a lot of interest."

SOME SOUND IDEAS FOR RAISING DAIRY CALVES

Check these calf management tips from livestock specialists of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. If you've been having trouble growing calves, maybe one of them will answer your question.

Start with the freshening cow.

When you judge her to be within 24 hours of calving, move her into a box stall or some other area away from other cows. It might pay to make sure the stall is draft-free, well bedded and clean.

Thoroughly scrub and disinfect the stall. If you're using a 1% lye solution, dissolve a 13 ounce can in about a quart of cold water and add 8 gallons of hot water to the mixture. A cresol or chlorine disinfectant and washing powder will do a good job too.

Try to be around the stable when the calf arrives in case you're needed to help deliver it. Wipe off any mucus from the calf's nose and mouth to prevent suffocation, and alternately compress and relax the chest walls if the calf doesn't start breathing immediately. Rub the calf dry with a burp if it is born during cold weather. Squeeze the material out of the attached navel cord and paint the cord end with a tincture of iodine to prevent infection.

Be sure to remove all the expelled membranes and soiled bedding from the stall immediately. And wash the cow's udder and teats with a chlorine solution before the calf begins to nurse.

What about feeding? Make sure the calf gets colostrum for the first three days or until the cow's milk is ready for human use. Watch your good cows. If she is producing more colostrum or first milk than the calf needs, feed some of the extra to calves from lower-producing dams.

But watch you don't over feed either the colostrum or milk — calf scouring might result. For larger breeds stick with 6 to 8 pounds of whole milk daily; smaller breeds take 4 to 6 pounds.

A good rule of thumb is to feed 1 pound of milk for each 10 pounds of calf. High butterfat milk can be diluted with one-third warm water to prevent scouring.

Some Other Ideas

Try individual calf pens for the first few weeks. These stop navel and udder sucking and also help prevent the spread of disease. Sucking can cause deformed, mastitis-producing respiration, and he discovered in the course of much investigation into the matter of drowning, that in many cases the heart beat cannot be detected even with the use of a stethoscope, but can be detected with the aid of an electro-cardiograph machine. This is because the heart goes into a rapid flutter, called fibrillation, too gentle to be detected."

"I cannot emphasize too strongly the need for all going near the water this summer, or at any other time, to learn the basic rules of artificial respiration — either the Holger-Nielsen, or the Schaefer methods — and apply them at once and without ceasing, even in the ambulance on the way to hospital for at least four hours."

Dr. Bates commented that sometimes injury was occasioned to a small victim by a heavy operator. He suggested that larger persons should practice leaning down on a bathroom scale, until the indicator registers 30 pounds. The weight is sufficient in the application of artificial respiration, he said, and a little practice will accustom the individual to exerting just that amount of pressure.

Campbellford Store Owner Receives Extortion Note

A man was arrested Sunday in what Campbellford town police describe as a $5,000 extortion attempt.

Remanded when he appeared in magistrate's court at Cobourg Monday morning was 42-year-old Henry Melvin Hopkins. He was charged with attempted extortion through threats.

The arrest halted elaborate capture plans that were being worked out by local and provincial police. The trap was to have been sprung Tuesday.

The alleged victim was to have been a well-to-do store owner, H. L. MacMillan.

Last week, police said, he received a letter ordering him to wrap $5,000 in bills in brown paper and deposit the parcel in a berry patch on the property of Hopkins.

Officers said the letter threatened harm not only to MacMillan, but also his wife and three children. They said the letter warned that even the police couldn't protect all of them all the time.

Letter To Hopkins

A second letter was allegedly received by Hopkins himself. Police said this informed him that a parcel of money would be left in his berry patch and instructed him to forward it to a post office box in Toronto.

Campbellford police alleged both letters were written by Hopkins. They said that, on top of other proof, he had admitted the authorship in a signed statement. They reported that he stated he was in debt and needed money to get out of the hole. — Peterborough Examiner.

THE BIBLE TODAY

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

When the British and Foreign Bible Society was established in 1804 it would have been difficult for the original founders to visualize that in the following 154 years a total of 648,920,635 Bibles, New Testaments and Gospels would be circulated under its auspices. This fact was announced at the Annual Meeting recently held in London.

The most significant fact disclosed was that the commitments of the Society to complete the translation of more whole Bibles had increased twofold since World War II. Of the more than eleven hundred languages into which some portion of the Scriptures have been translated only two hundred and fifteen have the whole Bible. The Society is at present working on the completion of ninety-four whole Bibles.

In 1955 two New Testaments were brought to completion: Chin (Vai-pie dialect) for Assam, North India; and Gourma for French Equatorial Africa.

Revisions of the New Testament in four African and eight other languages were published. Two new languages were added to the Society's lists, (for French Guinea, Africa) the Acts of the Apostles, and Teop (for the Solomon Islands), St. Mark's Gospel.

Let's Have The News

Holiday time is here, and it brings a steady stream of visitors to the community, while scores of local residents are holidaying at other points.

Every one of these visitors is a news item, of interest to at least some of our readers and we are very anxious to receive these items. Send them in, or bring them in, phone them in, or if you live in the country, let your district correspondent know. We do not wish to miss these "comings and goings", but if someone doesn't tell us, how are we to know? May we count on your co-operation.

The scream of skidding rubber behind you may be a warning of an impending rear-end collision, says the Ontario Safety League. If you brace your neck with hands and/or seat back you may avoid serious injury. The main danger from rear impact is the "whiplash" effect that can dislocate the neck.

A word of warning should be sufficient.

THE BIBLE TODAY

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

From Viet-Nam comes the report that the re-translated Gospel of Mark in Lao is now being painstakingly recopied in preparation for printing. The first edition of illustrated Cambodian Gospels has been printed in Phnom Penh and a large percentage of the churches throughout Viet-Nam observed universal Bible Sunday last December.

Since the appointment of Vietnamese Protestant Chaplains to the National Army, the Bible is being introduced to many who have never before had the opportunity of reading it or of pondering its message of God's love to man. A number of Bibles have been given for the camp reading rooms and the Chaplains report definite conversions and increasing interest in the Christian message.

Suggested
Bible Readings

Sunday — Esther 1: 1-22
Monday — Job 1: 1-22
Tuesday — Job 2: 1-13
Wednesday — Job 5: 17-27
Thursday — Job 28: 12-28
Friday — Job 38: 1-33
Saturday — Job 19: 13-29

7 of 10 Pupils
Leaving School
Before Matric.

An estimated 70 percent of Canada's pupils pack up their school books before they finish Grade 12.

The Labor Gazette, monthly publication of the Federal Labor Department, gives this figure in a report on two U.S. studies now under way to find out what happens to the "drop-outs" and the students who graduate and go directly to work.

Canada's last look at school-leavers was in 1951 when the Canadian Research Committee on Practical Education found in a study that economic necessity was not the only, or even the main reason for students leaving school.

The 1951 survey found that behind leaving school early were factors that included disinterest in school, inability to see any purpose in further education, desire for a change, early marriage for girls and little encouragement for schooling from home.

The U.S. surveys are being done by the Bureau of Labor statistics in the U.S. Labor Department.

A published report from one area under study showed that more girls than boys dropped out of school.

Once at work, high school graduation made a difference in earning — boy graduates had a median wage of $65 a week, boy drop-outs $52.

The survey found that "lack of achievement during their years at school was the important characteristic of these drop-outs."

It's Your Job

Wherever you're working — in office or shop, And however far you may be from the top —

And though you may think you're just treading the mill, Don't ever belittle the job that you fill For however little, your job may appear —

You're just as important as some little gear, That meshes with others in some big machine, That helps keep it going — though never is seen.

Your job is important — don't think it is not —

So try hard to give it the best you've got!

And don't ever think you're of little account —

Remember, you're part of the total amount.

If they didn't need you, you wouldn't be there —

So, always, my lad, keep your chin in the air,

A digger of ditches, mechanic or clerk Think well of your company, yourself and your work!

Paper companies lease their wood-lands from the Crown and pay for the wood they cut.

Ontario, with the exception that in the Townships of Darlington, East Whitby, Whitby, Pickering, Markham, Whitchurch, East Gwillimbury, King and Vaughan, there is no open season on these birds.

The bag limit for these species is an aggregate total of five and not more than an aggregate total of twenty of these species may be possessed at one time.

Preliminary estimate of labour income in Canada for 1958 is $16,29 million, an increase of $300 million from the previous year and of $4 billion from five years earlier.

Those things that come to the man who waits seldom turn out to be the things he's waiting for.

Horticultural Society Hints

Tent caterpillars can be extremely destructive. To eliminate them, spray the webs or nests with DDT. Do not burn them for this can cause injury to the trees or shrubs.

Prune suckers from the base of flowering crab and other trees and shrubs to conserve the plant strength for the main stem. Make certain shears are well sharpened first.

Cut old delphinium spikes, but leave enough foliage to promote new growth. When the new growth starts cut down the old stalks entirely.

Two common phlox troubles are red spider mites and mildew. Both can be controlled by dusting with sulphur from the underside of the leaves before mold or insects appear. Repeat this once or twice at 10 day intervals.

Indian Student For Ministry Helped By Order

A boy in India studying for the ministry will be helped by a contribution from members of the Order of the Eastern Star to the Grand Conductor of the Grand Chapter of Ontario, Mrs. W. T. Elliott. She has helped him attend college in India.

The presentation was made at a get-together, Sunday, at the Barlow Cottage, Crowe Lake. Following the supper served cafeteria style on the lawn, Mrs. Elliott spoke to the members.

Members were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. William Barlow, Bonarlaw, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Mumby, Spring Brook.

All joined in group singing after Eric Smith, Trenton, and Clara McFaul, Amherstburg, accompanied by Miss Mariel Mumby, Spring Brook, played several selections on the cornet, violin and accordion.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Elliott and the presiding worthy matrons and worthy patrons of the various chapters of District 12. Mrs. Mumby thanked the group. The presentation to Mrs. Elliott was made by Mr. Roy Brown, worthy patron, Peterborough Chapter. Mrs. Rose Smith, worthy matron, Trenton, thanked those responsible for the picnic and said she hoped they would meet again next year.

Stage Coach Route Now Echoes Whine of Jet Planes

Motorists who momentarily forget where they are, are sometimes startled, on Highway No. 2 west of Belleville, by the banshee scream of a jet plane right overhead.

Peering from the car window they will likely see a T33 jet trainer — looking for all the world like the latest "Sabre" — streak into the landing field alongside the highway, part of the great Trenton Base of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

As Canadian Training Command Headquarters this centre is responsible for the administration and conducting of ground and flight training throughout the Nation. It is also the Central Flying School for specialist instructors who monitor flying training at all other Canadian stations; School of Flying Instructors, both jet and piston aircraft; School of Instructional Techniques; and Meteorological School. The Base also accommodates No. 4 (T) Operational Training Unit and No. 102 Communications, Rescue and Target Tow Unit.

Westward on Highway 2 is Trenton, a thriving town of 11,000, at the mouth of the Trent River, entrance to a canal system started under government auspices in the early 1800's to connect a series of waterways that would provide a short route for ships and barges between Lake Ontario and Georgian Bay. Pressure brought by conflicting interests put a stop to construction but enough work was done that what is still known as the Trent Valley Canal is one of the most popular motorboat cruises in Canada. In fact, some 40 members . . . in as many boats . . . of a prominent North American motor boat club recently made the cruise with their families. At the city of Peterborough, some 60 miles north by water, is perhaps the highest and best known — and most photographed — hydraulic liftlock in the world.

Near Trenton, at Carrying Place, on September 23rd, 1787, Sir John Johnson met a great assembly of Indian Chiefs and negotiated the Gunshot Treaty, by which much eastern Ontario land were ceded to the British Crown. It was one of the first of many such treaties by which the white man guaranteed protection to the natives in return for their aboriginal territories.

Along Highway 2, motoring tourists encounter many towns and villages containing historic hostels dating back to the old Stage Coach Route between Toronto and Montreal. The observant traveller will note that these Inns are spaced pretty much according to the gait of horse-drawn vehicles up hill and down dale, to provide for convenient lunching, dining and overnight sleeping places for passengers, and change of horses. Today's fast-travelling tourists, who today the highways in hundreds of thousands of highpower automobiles, many new motels and hotels supplement the historic Inns.

Seaway Inspection Problems

The St. Lawrence Seaway has improved transportation facilities but it has also increased the complexity of several phases of plant protection work, says W. N. Keenan, Director of the Plant Protection Division, Canada Department of Agriculture.

Impact of diversified activity on the seaway has already been felt in the inspection of ships' holds prior to the loading of Canadian grain and cereal products for export. There is now a tendency for ships to carry cargoes of more diverse types and of both American and Canadian origin.

This problem, says Mr. Keenan, was illustrated by the loading of the M.S. Concordia. Outward bound, she took on an extensive cargo of lard in the United States and returned to Hamilton, Ontario, to complete loading with Canadian cereal product.

At this point, Division inspectors checked the space reserved for the Canadian cargo and uncovered a localized Khapra beetle infestation. A thorough cleaning was ordered for the holds carrying the cereal product.

Normally, fumigation of the infested area would have been required, but it could not be ordered because of possible damage to the lard. United Kingdom inspection authorities were notified of the infestation since the ship was bound for Liverpool, England, and United States agricultural officials also advised.

Says Mr. Keenan: "It is hoped that with greater mutual exchange of information and co-operation between the inspection authorities in the countries concerned with such problems, the increased possibilities for the spread of dangerous insects, stored products insects, for example, will be reduced to the minimum."

Millions have been spent on the eradication of the Khapra beetle in the southwestern United States. No outbreaks are known to occur in Canada.

The identity of the specimens collected by the Canadian inspectors was confirmed by a Washington specialist.

Bigger Hydro Building For Bancroft Rural Area

Squeezed by the district's mining and tourist development, Ontario Hydro will move from its Rural Operating Area office in Bancroft to new and larger quarters July 29th.

Lt.-Col. A. A. Kennedy, Ontario Hydro Commissioner, will officially open the combined office and service building on Highway 23 near Bancroft's western outskirts.

The one-storey cement block building has a floor area of some 5,600 square feet — almost eight times that of the old office on downtown Hastings Street North.

It will be headquarters for nine office workers, a field staff of 20 and about 50 construction workers — a team that looks after the electrical needs of 3,500 customers in an area of approximately 1,800 square miles.

Mining activity and resort developments on lakes in the area have accounted for most of the increase from 1,560 customers at the beginning of 1956. In the fall of 1949, the first rural line was strung for less than a mile. Now there are more than 450 miles of rural line.

The rural operating area extends north from the Coe Hill-Gilmour region to Lake St. Peter and Combermere, and east from McArthur's Mills almost to Wilberforce on the west.

Poison Ivy

For pure meanness, Poison Ivy has few equals. It is not the killer that water hemlock is and it may not affect as many people as ragweed, but it does mostly strike when people are on vacation. It has been responsible for closing vacation camps in mid-season. It has spoiled the holidays of thousands of children and adults and has cost many thousands of dollars in lost time, control measures, ointments, medical and even hospital fees. Some people become so susceptible to poison ivy that mere contact with the volatile fumes from broken or burning plants may cause infection. Others seem to be practically immune.

Poison Ivy thrives equally well in the humid flat lands of Southern Ontario and in the Rocky Highlands of the North. It is not difficult to recognize. Think of the Virginia Creeper with its whorls of five leaves; Poison Ivy has somewhat similar leaves in three's. It is sometimes misnamed "Poison Oak". Fortunately, there is no poison oak in Ontario.

Here are a few precautions suggested ed by the Fields Crop Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture to ensure safe and happy vacations, free from distressing irritations of Ivy poisoning:

(1) Every child should learn to recognize Poison Ivy.

(2) Every cottage and resort owner should eradicate Poison Ivy or post warning signs in areas where it is abundant.

(3) Property associations and municipal councils can help by organizing control campaigns.

For identification of the plant,

Circular 243 will be found useful. It also includes hints on the prevention of infection and treatment for the relief of the itching caused by Poison Ivy. Severe cases should, of course, receive medical attention. This Circular is available from the Information Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

Total wages paid by the Canadian electrical manufacturing industry are more than 12 times greater than in 1959.

Pine Grove Women's Institute

The July meeting of Pine Grove Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Searles with 15 members and five visitors present.

The President, Mrs. William Slater, opened the meeting with all singing the Opening Ode and then read a poem "How to be Happy." The convenors of Standing Committees reported.

Mrs. Chas. Ross passed out new song books which she had sent for. Mrs. Fred Campbell read "Learning to Live" from the Country Woman's magazine. Mrs. Grace Bartindale gave current events and then asked each member for an event.

Mrs. Ivan Clare, convenor of Health, opened the programme with a reading, "Heart Disease," which was followed by other readings by Miss Elaine Lindenfield, "Youth and Age" and "Can Your Child Hear Perfectly?" by Mrs. Allyn Finkle. Mrs. Harry Coulter read "Happy, Healthy and Elderly." Mrs. Douglas Detlor read "When Grandma Makes the Tea." Mrs. Clare conducted a contest, "Parts of the Body" and some found out they were not too familiar with several parts of their anatomy.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and the lunch committee.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

NOW WHO RUNS CBC?

Mounting criticism of CBC opinion broadcasts finally convinced CBC management that they should pull up their socks.

Acting president Ernie Bushnell tried to get the Corporation back on the tracks. His first step was to cancel a five-minute show which he agreed was biased, immature, and failing in its purpose.

What happened?

Members of the little clique in the Talks and Public Affairs department, which has been responsible for the bias and for the mounting waves of criticism, mutilated. They quit without notice, and went over their boss's head to his Board of Governors.

The Board, to its everlasting discredit, first backed management, then reversed itself and backed the Talks and Public Affairs clique.

So, in effect, the clique of opinion-molders now runs the Corporation and the boss daren't tamper with any of their shows or they'll set up a cry.

Ironically, the cry that they use is that there is clandestine interference or influence by people who are politically connected. After all these years, when they have acted as the left wing of the Liberals or the avant garde of the CCF, they cannot tolerate political influence! This would be a great joke if it were not such a tragedy.

What president of CBC will ever again have the desire to reform the CBC? This little group will go merrily on, with jibe after subtle jibe at our cherished beliefs, irresponsible to criticism from any source whatever, including parliament!

Unfortunately, one or two reporters, ignorant of the true situation, have attempted to make us look upon this clique as martyrs, ready to put their jobs on the line in order to defend the Corporation against political interference.

Maybe they are martyrs, but not in that particular cause. They are prepared, undoubtedly, to defend their right to go on holding a monopoly over control of everything seen and heard on the air and on television in Canada. I grant them that. They are taking to advantage of a situation to bust their boss and make his job virtually impossible in order to retain for themselves the chance to brainwash us all at our own expense. If this is martyrdom, let them take a bow!

Trend Threatens Farmers' Jobs

(Peterborough Examiner)

If the present trend to vertical integration of farming continues, 90 per cent of farmers in Ontario will be looking for other jobs, Laverne Morley, vice-president of the Ontario Farmers' Union, forecast recently.

Vertical integration is the system by which large companies take over every aspect of farming from actual production right through to marketing.

Mr. Morley was speaking at a two-day joint meeting of representatives of the Canadian Labour Congress, the Ontario Federation of Labour and the Ontario Farmers' Union, held at Club Whitesands.

The conference, first of its kind in Canada, was held to discuss mutual problems of the farmer and the industrial worker. Some 22 representatives, evenly divided between farmers and industrial workers, attended. Chairman of the meeting was Paul Siren, a member of the farmer-labour committee of the Federation of Labour.

Secretary of the farmer-labour committee was Morden Lazarus, director of political education for the Federation of Labour.

During the conference, he told The Examiner: "A better understanding is desirable between the farmers and industrial workers because of the rapid changes taking place in the economic situation.

"We have discovered that our basic problems are not very different.

"The trade union movement is concerned with technological advances, automation, and such advances in industry. We have found that similar changes are taking place on the farms which correspond with problems in the industrial field.

"In industry, who is going to benefit from these changes?

"Will it be the worker, or will the companies get all the profits?

"On the farms, will it be the big companies developing this new type of farm operation called vertical integration who reap all the profits?"

After Mr. Morley's remarks about farmers having to leave their farms in the future, Henry Nokes, of Peterborough, the CLC representative assigned to farmer-labour relations, quoted statistics to show that in California 4,000 of 150,000 farmers were producing 75 per cent of the total farm yield in that state. He said Russian vice-premier Mikoyan had congratulated California on having more successful collective farms than they had in the USSR.

"Many of these people are not farmers but people living in swank hotels and big homes in California," said Mr. Nokes.

Top representative from the farming side was Gordon Hill, of Varna, president of the farmers' union. He said vertical integration was sounding the death knell of the family-type farm.

"It is scaring us because we can't see it being any benefit to the consumer," he said.

"It will put control of the food industry into the hands of a handful of corporations. If it is allowed to continue we will see a return to the feudal system where the land was controlled by the barons and worked by the serfs."

He admitted there was suspicion among some farmers about the reasons for the amalgamation of farm and union interests.

"That is why the farmer-labour committee has been formed and why we are holding these meetings," he said. "Now the farmers can assess for themselves if our work is in their interests."

Mr. Hill said farmers and workers have been kept apart for years by adverse propaganda which convinced farmers they were really the conservative individualists they had been told they were.

"Actually, there are no two groups which have more in common," he said. Ground work for the conference has been carried out by Mr. Nokes, who for almost a year has been travelling over Ontario speaking to farmers about their problems.

"Farmers are rapidly becoming aware that they are not the rugged individualists they thought they were," he said.

"The industrial workers also realize that if the small farms fold up, the already tight labour market will be flooded by these farmers looking for industrial jobs."

General matters of policy were discussed followed by questions of organization. Subjects included parity and price support mechanisms and deficiency payments.

Other officials at the convention were George Home, political education director for the CLC; William Dodge, executive vice-president of the CLC; D. F. Hamilton, secretary-treasurer of the Federation of Labour; Carroll Coburn of the United Autoworkers research staff and Mrs. Merle Hopkins, of Fenelon Falls, women's president of the farmers' union.

THE FOOD BASKET

VITAMINIZED APPLE JUICE POPULAR WITH CANADIANS

The Canada Department of Agriculture advises that approximately 95% of the apple juice packed in 1958 has been fortified with Vitamin C. This is quite a step forward, especially when it is realized that the fortification of apple juice is a voluntary action by the packers. One of the biggest reasons for the increase in the percentage of vitaminized apple juice is that the Canadian consumer has become much more conscious of the value of Vitamin C in the diet generally and in juices particularly.

Fortification or vitaminization of apple juice means that at the time of packing 50 mg. of Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) per 100 c.c. of apple juice are added. This insures that at any time within 12 months of the date of packing there will be present at least 35 mg. of ascorbic acid per 100 c.c. of juice.

It has been found that immediately following the processing of the apple juice the amount of ascorbic acid has been reduced to about 45 milligrams and after that there is a gradual loss, the amount depending on storage conditions. From time to time samples of apple juice are picked up by government inspectors in the stores, to be analyzed in order to assure that the amount of Vitamin C has not gone below the prescribed 35 milligrams per 100 c.c.

It takes a blend of three or four varieties of apples to make the best apple juice. Most packers try to blend one or two hard apple varieties, such as Gravenstein, Cortland, Spy and Newton with other softer sweet apple varieties such as McIntosh and Fameuse. Naturally, apples that are juicy and rather tart make the best apple juice. When it is realized that 1400 pounds of apple juice are obtained from one ton of fresh apples, or approximately 11 ounces of juice from 1 pound of apples, it is easy to understand why the juice has such fine, fresh, full flavour.

In making apple juice the fruit is first sorted and trimmed, then washed. The apples are ground in a hammer mill or other device and then pressed in a hydraulic press, the juice draining into special tanks. The apple juice is filtered and clarified, after which the oxygen is removed with vacuum equipment.

In the canning process the juice is sterilized by heating to 194 degs. F. and from here it is canned or bottled. The containers are turned on their sides and held one minute before being completely water cooled. This treatment gives the best juice with a minimum of "cooked" flavour.

There are 18 packers of apple juice in Canada — four plants in Nova Scotia, two in Quebec, seven in Ontario and five in British Columbia. In 1957 these plants processed over 62,136,700 pounds of apple juice. The output for 1958, a little better apple year than 1957, should be even greater. This should please the many Canadian consumers who for several weeks last fall, were disappointed to find no apple juice on their grocer's shelves until the new pack was available.

More than 75 per cent of Canadians have a camera in the house and last year Canadians spent $75,000,000 on photographic equipment.

Lawrence Levi Ferguson, 35, of R.R. 3, Havelock, was killed early Sunday when his car went out of control after skidding on wet pavement into a ditch on No. 7 Highway north of Campbellford.

A passenger, Donald Derrett, of R.R. 3, Havelock, was not injured. The victim was thrown 10 feet out of the car after it struck the ditch. He leaves his wife and five children.

O.A.C. DAIRY RESEARCHERS TEST PLASTIC MILK-LINE

Dairymen who couldn't afford to give a second look at pipeline milking might be interested in this: Dairy scientists at the Ontario Agricultural College are testing a new rigid type of plastic piping claimed by its manufacturers to cost only a "third to half the price" of glass or steel pipelines. And the results look good.

"Bacteria counts were exceptionally low. Counts taken throughout the year never exceeded 15,000 and averaged from 3,000 to 6,000," notes a dairy specialist, F. W. Hamilton. The maximum allowable number of bacteria per sample in Ontario is 200,000 per sample.

"Till now, only soft translucent polyethylene plastic has been tried and it has proven exceptionally hard to clean. The new vinyl chloride material is very hard and a twice-a-day sanitizing with chlorine, a one-a-day cleansing with an alkali, and a weekly acid rinse easily holds the bacteria count down," says Hamilton.

The pipeline installation was carried out on a farm north of Guelph. It consists of a 50 foot overhead line of plastic piping to carry milk from two rows of 28 cows to a bulk cooler, and a similar length put in as a return for washing.

The 1½ inch diameter piping was put up in 20-foot lengths, joined by plastic fittings of the same material and supported every 6 feet with band iron. To admit the milk into the line, two stainless steel cocks were inserted, one at each row of cows. Milk is pumped into the line from a 100 pound dump tank installed on a moveable cart. A short length of flexible plastic tubing links the cart to the entry cocks.

Concludes researcher Hamilton: "We're still working on the pipe. What interests us the most is its cheapness and ease of installation, one man can put in the whole pipeline — all he needs is a hack saw, a mitre box, and a solvent to weld the fittings to the pipe."

CRAIGRASS

Nobody likes the look of crabgrass. The finger-like spikes of the seed heads have no appeal; the short-sharp-pointed, hairy leaves don't match well the shade or shape of the intended lawn grass. And when these leaves and stems turn a reddish-purple colour, which they do in mid-summer, they suggest some serious nutrient deficiency in a well-fertilized lawn.

Another thing, crabgrass doesn't grow in shade. Since it picks the lawn, you can't conceal it behind the shed or under a tree. And it consolidates its gains by sending down shallow roots and new shoots at each joint of the stems. In this way, left to its own devices, it pretty well takes over a patch of lawn by autumn, crowding the bluegrass out of existence.

A dense turf of bluegrass, fescue and/or White Dutch clover is the best defense against crabgrass invasion. High fertility and rapid growth help provide both competition and shade for the unwanted crabgrass. When watering is necessary, it should be thorough, to soak the deeper-rooted bluegrasses. Light, frequent waterings actually do the most good to the shallow rooted crabgrass.

Chemicals for the crabgrass areas should provide good control. You will need to spray at least twice, starting before the heads appear, with a second application about two weeks later. Potassium cyanate is used one ounce in three gallons of water to 400 square feet. Some proprietary products are a combination of potassium cyanate and MCP to control both crabgrass and chickweed. In any case, such product be sure to read the directions carefully, as the active ingredients will vary with different brands.

LYE IS DEATH TO BACTERIA

Science has shattered all doubts about the effectiveness of a lye solution in preventing bacterial growth in the rubber parts of a milking machine test-cup assembly.

In the light of derogatory claims, the Dairy Technology Research Institute of the Canada Department of Agriculture repeated tests made many years earlier. The result:

"We found that 0.5 per cent lye solution was extremely effective in killing any bacteria present," reports Dr. C. K. Johns, institute director.

In controlled experiments, conditions where milking machines had been neglected were simulated. Although lye solution was used at only one-quarter the usual strength, the milk showed an astonishingly low bacterial count after just two weeks.

To be satisfied that the results were representative of those on ordinary dairy farms, officials arranged to exchange the test unit with one belonging to a local milk producer who had been getting high bacterial counts.

They discovered that all parts of the farmer's unit were dirty. It has been stored completely assembled in a crock of cold water between milkings. Filling the teat-cup assemblies with 0.5 per cent lye solution between milkings had a dramatic effect. Within three days the bacterial count had been brought down to a low level.

Deposit Prevented

Dr. Johns pointed out that one drawback to the use of lye solution is that in hard water areas it tends to build up a deposit of mineral salts on the surfaces of the equipment. While it may not affect the bacterial count of the milk, it is unsightly and undesirable.

In England, the National Institute for Research in Dairying has introduced the use of a chelating agent such as Versene in a lye solution to prevent the deposition of calcium and other hard-water salts.

The same method was tried out at St. Mary's, Ontario, and in consequence, one distributor of sanitation chemicals is preparing to market a product in which the chelating agent is incorporated.

The Ottawa Journal says byelec-

The Journal says the government has not yet decided whether to issue the writs before or after Labour Day, September 7th.

FARM BROADCASTS ENTER 21st YEAR

Editors, commentators and provincial agricultural officials gathered in the CBC studios, Toronto, earlier this year to celebrate the 20th anniversary of CBC radio's farm broadcasts in Ontario and Quebec. Blowing out the 20 candles are (left to right) Dr. H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture; Orville J. Shugg, an original producer and Robert G. Knowles, national supervisor CBC Farms and Fisheries Dept. It was Monday, May 1st, 1959, that the first farm broadcast was made in this region. The Craig family was introduced that day, along with farm facts, agricultural developments and livestock reports — all of which are still being carried.

Annual Rotary Fair And Street Dance Proved Most Successful

Lucky Ticket On Trailer,
Motor and Boat Held by Enio Scuccato, of Trenton

Success crowned the efforts of President George Lyons and his fellow Rotarians at the Rotary Street Fair and Dance held on Mill Street, Monday night. The street was made ready during the afternoon and conditions were ideal for this annual event. The net proceeds amounted to several hundred dollars, which will be used for the Club's crippled children's work and other benevolent activities.

A bingo game did a thriving business, while a shooting gallery, fish pond, ring toss and refreshment booths were well patronized by the large crowd. Music for dancing, round and square, was provided by Uncle Jimmie Mitts and his Orchestra.

Pony Ride

A pony ride for the children proved very popular.

Prize Winners

The holder of the lucky ticket on the Peterborough Zephyr Boat with windshield, steering kit, light kit, Weco trailer and 10 h.p. Evinrude motor, with a total value of $1,000, was Enio Scuccato, of Catherine St., Trenton. The winning ticket was sold by Rotarian G. B. Noble to Anton Cichanowicz, of Trenton, who later sold it to the winner.

R. A. Patterson sold tickets on a lawn chair and rug, with the former being won by Miss Sandra West and the latter by Gilbert Finkle.

The officers and members of the Rotary Club are deeply grateful for the generous patronage of the citizens of Stirling and surrounding community and to all those who assisted in any way.

Police Association Met Here Monday

Members of the Trent Valley Police Association met in the Council Chambers, Stirling, on Monday night, with President W. Higgins, of Tweed, in the chair. Reeve Alford, of Deseronto, was in attendance in addition to some ten members of the Association.

The chief item of discussion was the matter of the returns from fines received by the various municipalities. It was pointed out that the various municipalities were dissatisfied with the present division and the returns were out of proportion to the costs incurred in prosecuting the various infractions of the law. It was decided to refer the matter to the officials of the various municipalities.

It was decided to arrange a dance in Marmora some time in September. No action was taken on appointing a delegate to the Police Convention in Kitchener next month.

Wellman's W.I.

Mrs. Thos. Hinds was hostess to the Wellman's Women's Institute members at her home on the afternoon of July 15th. There was a splendid attendance of members and fifteen children.

The President, Mrs. B. Seeley, conducted the meeting and presided over a programme arranged by Mrs. Jim Pollock, the Health Convenor, and put on mainly by the children.

A piano solo was given by Carol

They'll miss the Smiths at Trout Lake this summer

Everyone on Trout Lake knew and liked the Smiths. You'd see them up at their cottage every weekend. You'd hear the children's carefree laughter echoing across the lake. And Mr. Smith never failed to give you a friendly wave as he cruised by in his boat.

But Trout Lake won't see the happy Smith family any more . . . all because Mr. Smith was in a hurry to get up to the cottage for the weekend. He left at night and drove too fast . . . and there was an accident!

The Smith's cottage is for sale now. And it needn't have happened!

Is it worth your life and your family's just to get to the cottage a few minutes earlier? Remember, you have a whole summer for fun and relaxation—don't try to squeeze in a few extra minutes by driving carelessly!

Your Ontario Department of Transport urges you to observe the speed limits. And when driving at night, always lower your headlights when approaching or following another motor vehicle.

Seeley; vocal solo, by Jeanette Dracup; duet, Joyce and Joan Cotten; duet, Nancy Tompkins and Marilyn White; solo, Carol Beckett.

Mrs. Burton Morton showed two films, one on the life of Madam Curie, "The Story of Radium" and a comedy, "If the Shoe Fits."

Mrs. Omar Dracup thanked Mrs. Hinds for opening her home for the meeting. After the closing of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the lunch committee and hostess.

Bay of Quinte W.A. Plan For Autumn

Planning for the autumn's work was the order of the day when the executive members of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Woman's Association of the United Church of Canada met for their summer executive meeting on Wednesday, July 15th in Bridge Street United Church parlours, Belleville, with the President, Mrs. G. E. Dobbs in the chair.

Of first importance was the planning for the Fall Rally to be held in Trinity United Church, Peterborough, on Monday, September 28th, with Call to Worship at 9:30 a.m. It was planned to turn the morning session over to the Conference Secretaries, who would take advantage of the well-planned facilities of Trinity Church Hall to prepare individual conference periods with the various related secretaries of Presbyteries and Local Woman's Associations, to give practical assistance and inspiration in the carrying out of their work for the autumn months, and to discuss their problems. All groups would then report back to the general assembly on their discussions.

Mrs. Ralph Hill, Programme Planning Secretary, was asked to conduct a programme planning session, using a skit as a demonstration of live programme. Mrs. Hill urges all W.A.'s to use the new study packet at their meetings, especially commenting on the use of the programmes "Inside Northern Rhodesia" and "Women in Changing Africa" for joint meetings with W.M.S. groups. Such meetings would be preparation for the new women's organization which will get under way on January 1st, 1962.

An invitation is to be issued to Mrs. J. L. Halpenny, a past president of the Dominion Council, and now Secretary of the Senior Adult Committee of the Board of Christian Education of the United Church, to be the special guest speaker for the Rally.

Of great interest was the careful review by Mrs. A. A. Crowle of the evaluation sheets from members attending the leadership training course at Five Oaks. Comments ranged from "A mountain-top experience" to the urging for more time to be given to Bible study, practical programming, leadership training and worship.

Mrs. W. C. Ivens was appointed to consult with Rev. Beverley Oaten with a view to arranging courses for the eastern and western sections of the Conference Branch this coming year, of three days' duration rather than two, in order to accommodate more of those desiring to avail themselves of the course for their area and to broaden the programme.

THE BIBLE TODAY

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

How much does a Bible weigh? It all depends on what form it is in, whether manuscript, Braille, pocket size or whether the paper and binding are heavy or light. A Braille Bible of 39 volumes weighs over 100 pounds, a pocket Testament weighs only a few ounces.

The complete typescript of the Bible in the Teso language, spoken by half a million Africans in Northern Uganda weighs 35 pounds. The Scripture translation and revision has been in progress for fifty years, and now culminates in the complete Old Testaments in the Teso language.

This manuscript was flown to England and was displayed at a children's Rally in Central Hall, Westminster in London.

The Bible in Teso will soon be printed and distributed.

Municipal Affairs Minister Warrender ordered a judicial inquiry into the financial affairs of the City of Belleville Tuesday.

He appointed Judge Arthur R. Willmott, of Cobourg, to conduct the investigation.

Terms of reference of the commissioners are similar to those granted in the inquiry into the financial affairs of York Township. They include probing of every financial aspect of the city and anything which might be related to city finances.

Of this amount a $110,000 deficit was in the general revenue fund and

Foxboro Native
Ralph Campbell
Agric. Institute
President

Professor D. Ralph Campbell of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell, of Foxboro, has been named president of the Agricultural Institute of Canada. The appointment was made at the recent annual meeting of the Institute held in Winnipeg. The Institute is a 3,000-member organization of professional agriculturists mostly engaged in teaching, research and specialized civil service appointments.

Born on his parents' farm near Foxboro, Professor Campbell is a veteran of World War II, serving as a pilot with the RCAF, and was awarded the DFC and Bar. He is a graduate of Stirling High School, and after the war he studied political science and economics at the University of Toronto where he was awarded seven scholarships, including a Rhodes Scholarship which he received in

He went to England where he studied philosophy, politics and economics at Balliol College in Oxford, later joining the staff at the O.A.C., Guelph.

He is a member at large of the Canadian Social Science Research Council and a member of the Ontario Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee and was recently named by Premier Leslie Frost as a member of a special five-man board to examine the marketing of agricultural products in Ontario. He has held his present post as head of the agricultural economics department at A.O.C. since 1952.

This summer he was named as one of 21 persons to receive special project awards and travel grants from the Canadian Council. The travel grant will assist him in visiting agricultural economics departments of universities in the United Kingdom and on the continent.

With Mrs. Campbell he will holiday in the United Kingdom before commencing his round of universities.

Entered Into Rest

JOHN CLEMENTS

The sympathy of the Ivanhoe community is extended to the relatives of the late John Clements, whose death occurred on Wednesday, July 15th in the General Hospital, Belleville, following a short illness.

Mr. Clements was born in 1874. He was the son of Thomas and Rachael Clements and was the last of his family.

On September 25th, 1907, he married Harriet Francis Fleming, who predeceased him on January 25th, 1942. Following the death of his wife he sold the farm now owned by Mr. Arthur Wood and resided with his brother, the late Albert Clements. For the past few months he has lived with his niece, Mrs. Sidmer Reid.

Mr. Clements possessed a retentive memory and was an authority on the histories of pioneer families. He related many interesting facts handed down from past generations.

He was genial and friendly and was well liked by both young and old.

Although of a quiet unassuming nature, he was not afraid to raise his voice in the cause of right. He was well read and kept abreast of the world as well as community affairs.

Fraternally he has been a member of Stirling Lodge, A.F. & A.M. No. 69 since 1902. He was the proud possessor of a 50-year jewel. At the time the lodge observed its 100th anniversary in 1956, he was presented with a new masonic apron, being the oldest living member.

He was a faithful member of Beulah United Church and at the time of his death was Senior Elder.

In the passing of John Clements a link with the past has been broken. He will be missed from his place at the family gatherings, in the church and from all the old familiar places so often frequented by him over many years.

Canadian proved recoverable liquid hydrocarbon reserves as of December 31st, 1958, were 3.65 billion barrels—an increase of 381 million barrels over 1957 reserves.

St. Paul's Notes

(By Rev. A. Packman)

On Sunday last, July 26th, the members of St. Paul's W.A. and W.M.S. took part in the morning service—there were twenty ladies to form the choir.

Mrs. Harry Walte read the responsive psalm. Mrs. David Duffin was responsible for the service. Mrs. Roy Tucker read a lesson and the following each gave a talk which in each case was greatly inspiring: Mrs. Sharpe, Mrs. Wm. Wilkins and Mrs. A. Packman.

Many a man will stand for an hour without complaining, to let a woman have a seat in a bus. But he is liable to try to blast her off the road with his horn if she cuts into line ahead, or otherwise delays him for a few seconds in the car, comments the Ontario Safety League.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Spencer and Sherry visited his uncle, Mr. Ernest Spencer Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spencer and sons at Havelock on Sunday.

Ross Thomson, Billings Bridge, Ottawa, spent the week-end with his brother, Clarence and family and other friends and relatives in the community.

Anne Reid accompanied her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Pollock and cousin Barbara Watson on a week-end visit with relatives at Kincardine.

They've been here again. The so-called "Tree Experts." They know about as much about a tree as a Hindoo does about skates. They go around the country roads squirting poison on all the nice green trees and shrubs, under the guise of making way for telephone and power lines. We think that they might better cut the trees down than to leave the hideous mess that we have to look at now. A tree in this community was trimmed out to allow telephone wires to go through over thirty years ago and its still doing what it was cut out to do.

One of the bare-backed poison squirting school boys told the writer that cutting the trees would only hold them back for two years. It has never been my luck to grow a tree telephone-wire height in two years. They were given permission to cut down an old apple tree which touches the wires on their last trip around, but that must have been more like work than playing with a sprayer. The tree still stands. Other shrubs are sprayed that could never hope to attain a height of 10 feet. Do we have to stand for this wholesale murder along our roads? They look as if we had a forest fire.

OF MANY THINGS

(by Ambrose Hills)

ALBERTA VIEW OF THE CBC

Mr. Solon Low of the Social Credit party, spent some time in bed convalescing and listening to CBC. As a result, he wrote the following comments:

"I listened with particular attention to the CBC commentaries over several months. In every single case, it slanted news strictly to the left. I could have understood if, within a week or two, I had been able to listen to commentaries presenting the other point of view. But I listened in vain. There was no single rightist or even objective talk. I charge the CBC with refusing to give an opportunity to commentators of the other side to present their views in order to balance it up."

Solon Low is not a man given to wild charges. He was not the only Canadian leader to have noticed the same thing. Some of the very finest press gallery reporters had been pointing out this bias for a long time, too.

Albertans, of course, are strongly pro-freedom. It is a province where the free-enterprise system has worked wonders in the past. Naturally, they are upset when an agency of government seems to be so determined to sell us all on left-wing theories or to destroy our faith in Canadian traditions.

The commentaries which upset Mr. Low were planned or delivered by CBC's Talks and Public Affairs Department. This little group has a pet stable of commentators which it uses over and over again.

I don't know how often I have heard subtle attacks on Christianity by these people, but I have heard enough. When a TV's "personality" is interviewed on why he left the ministry, and he says it was because he had ceased to believe in the divinity of Christ, a good many young fans are going to have doubts. Now if, at the same time, a popular personality had been present to confirm his continuing belief, it might not have been so bad; but no such thing was done. Programmes on the French network were equally effective in attacking religious faith there.

It finally became evident, even to CBC management, that Talks and Public Affairs had gone too far in using the networks for ideological propaganda. Mr. Bushnell, acting president, attempted to reform the situation, but immediately the Talks and Public Affairs group mutinied. Their mutiny succeeded, and Mr. Bushnell has, in effect, been sent to Siberia.

Most Canadians would have backed Bushnell to the hilt in his efforts to stop this group from carrying on its biased propaganda. Why, then, did the CBC's Board of Governors fail to do so? Albertans, and others, want an explanation.

Reunion Dinner of Descendants of Nehemiah Hubble

(By Mrs. Percy MacMullen)

The tenth annual Hubble Reunion dinner was held in Frankford Memorial dining hall on Sunday, July 26th with seventy clan members in attendance. The group were all descendants of the pioneer Nehemiah Hubble, who came to Hubble Hill, now known as Mount Pleasant in Rawdon Township in 1784. He travelled with a group of United Empire Loyalists from the United States to Adolphustown. From there he and his brother trekked to Rawdon Township and built a log shack in the wilderness. In 1785 Nehemiah returned to the United States and brought his wife, the former Lucinda Welton and family to live in this area. Year by year more of the Hubble Clan came to this part of Ontario and the district was named "Hubble Hill."

Ten years ago in July 1950 the first Hubble Reunion was held at Presquile with sixteen families in attendance. The late Lorne Hubble was elected the first president of the group. The reunion has been held at Frankford Memorial Hall for the past five years and the date is set for the fourth Sunday in July.

The Sunday luncheon was served on long tables with family groups and was topped off with ice cream. The ice cream was provided by the organization. Grace was sung with Mrs. Arthur Pyear officiating at the piano.

The sports committee arranged a series of games and races on the lawn for the children immediately after the dinner. The winners received prizes and all the children were given treats of confectionery. Later the younger fry enjoyed a visit to Frankford Tourist Park.

Guests were in attendance from Acton, Kingston, Shannaville, Belleville, Trenton, Stockdale, Campbellford, Marmora, Bonarlaw, Stirling, Rednersville, Foxboro, Frankford Mount Pleasant Rawdon and other points.

Business Meeting

Mr. Cecil Hubble, Foxboro, presided over a short business meeting, which opened with the Queen.

Mr. Charles Hubble, of Acton, Ont., delighted with musical selections on the harmonica. Mrs. Russell Pyear, of Stirling, gave a full report of the 1958 proceedings and also a financial statement of the year's expenses with a bank balance of twenty-seven dollars.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave a brief account of what she had accomplished during the past year in writing the genealogy of the clan which will some day be published in book form. There is still research work to complete and families are asked to send in a list of recent marriages, births and deaths in order to have the manuscript as near correct as possible.

Mrs. Russel Hubble who is a co-worker on the historical committee, gave an up-to-date report re the printing of the book. The clan will need to raise approximately one hundred dollars more for this venture. It is hoped that the Ways and Means committee will stage an event in the early autumn and donations will be gratefully received. Mrs. Hubble also displayed the crest designed for the Hubble Clan in English with its mark of Heraldry and Latin inscript. When the clan came to the United States this was the spelling, but now there are several versions and yet all are members of the same pioneer family.

When the book is completed Mrs. Don Terry will be in charge of the distribution.

Mr. Clifford Hubble is treasurer of the Book Fund and he has over two hundred dollars in the bank account. Donations have been gratefully received in memory of loved ones. One hundred books will be printed and any person who wishes may order a book until the supply is exhausted. To date sixty-five books are ordered.

Period of Silence

Five members have been called to higher service and a period of silence was held in their memory. The deceased are: Fred Shaw, Windsor; Robert Bateman, Hamilton; Mrs. Hermon Tucker (Ella Hubble), of Tweed; Mrs. Peter Hubble, Plainfield; Wallace Cameron, Cold Lake, Alberta.

The reunion will be held in 1960 on the fourth Sunday of July in the Frankford Memorial Hall.

Awards

The prizes were given as follows:

Youngest child — Brian Hubble, born May 1958, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hubble, Stirling R.R. 3.

Oldest person — Sandford Hubble, Belleville, seventy-eight years.

Longest married couple — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hubble, Foxboro, fifty-two years.

Youngest married couple — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hubble, Stirling R.R. 3, married six years.

Largest Family — Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hubble, Sidney Township, with thirteen in attendance.

Those who came the farthest — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hubble and family, Acton, Ontario, one hundred and fifty-eight miles.

Birthday prize — Mrs. Lorne Hubble, of Stockdale, birthday July 28th. The group sang "Happy Wedding Anniversary" for Russell and Reta Pyear, of Stirling, as this was their special day and "Happy Birthday" to Lue Hubble.

Election of Officers

Mr. Everett Hubble, a past president, spoke briefly and conducted the election. He hoped a larger number of the clan would plan to attend the 1950 reunion.

President — Mr. Elton Hubble, of Campbellford R.R. 4 (newly elected)

Vice-President — Mrs. Percy MacMullen

Secretary-Treasurer — Mrs. Russell Pyear

Invitation Secretaries — Mrs. John McColl and Mrs. Don Terry

Sports Committee — Donald Hubble and Don Bates

Hall and Ice Cream — Mrs. Don Hubble

Mrs. Arthur Pyear voiced thanks to Mr. Cecil Hubble, of Foxboro, for his four-year term of office as president. The newly-elected president, Mr. Elton Hubble, spoke briefly, and asked for co-operation to carry on the reunion plans.

"Now be sure," the farmer's wife cautioned the druggist, "to label them bottles plain; which one is for the horse, and which one is for my husband. I don't want nothing to happen to that horse before spring plowing!"

What Others Say

WE CAN'T HAVE IT
BOTH WAYS HERE

(The Rural Scene)

Ever since the earliest settlers located in Canada the development of the country has depended on the importation of men and of capital from abroad.

Our most prosperous years have always been the years in which both capital and labor have been free to enter the country and to seek out whatever opportunities for development they could find within its borders and to go ahead and develop them.

Our leanest years have been the years in which the entry of people and capital has been most restricted, and their activities most hampered.

Capital seldom enters a developing country in the form of cash. It comes in the form of materials and equipment needed for the development of the country's resources. Frequently it is accompanied by men with the experience and the ability to direct its investment and to plan and manage the industries it establishes.

It would have been the height of folly for Canada to have insisted that foreign capital coming into the country must be in the form of cash to be spent in Canada on Canada-made products, that it be directed and managed by Canadians and that the equipment it needs be Canadian made.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway was built, Canada had neither the money nor the rails, nor any of the equipment, nor the means of producing them, nor the experience to construct and operate such an enterprise. All we had was faith in the country as a place where men could make a living if they were properly developed.

We had a population and a government with the good sense to allow development and enterprise to proceed with a minimum of government meddling. They didn't worry in those days about the nationality of the bond-holders or the stock-holders, or of the directors or the senior officials, or where they bought their supplies. Their concern was to get the railway built and in operation.

That policy paid off by creating, for our use, a railway that bound Canada together, that served it and is still serving it well, and is one of the very few railways on the continent that has never been in the hands of a receiver.

Since the second world war we have had a greater influx of foreign capital into Canada than we ever had before — most of it from the United States. We have need for it all; but are we using the same good judgment in dealing with this imported capital as our grandfathers did during the last century?

We have complained about our adverse trade balance with the country from which this capital is coming, and we have elected a Government pledged to redress that balance. But have we ever considered how we can import capital on the scale we have been doing, without incurring such adverse trade balances?

If we insist on buying no more from the United States than she buys from us, how are we ever going to import the capital she is sending up here for investment?

We can't have it both ways. We can't have the real benefits of American investments in our country if we insist on Americans regularly taking back as much as we take from them.

To do so would be to reduce Americans' investments in Canada to zero. We hope it is not too late for our Government to reconsider its policy of balancing trade with countries from which we are anxious to import capital for investment in Canada.

PROVERB

Madam motorized makes merry hell, Mirth for men, and bills as well.

Martha Says

Charity begins at home, but it should not end there.

If we try to confine the benefits of our good deeds to our own small group, the good will dry out of them and they will become as hard and tasteless as stunted berries.

they are upset when an agency of government seems to be so determined to sell us all on left-wing theories or to destroy our faith in Canadian traditions.

The commentaries which upset Mr. Low were planned or delivered by CBC's Talks and Public Affairs Department. This little group has a pet stable of commentators which it uses over and over again.

I don't know how often I have heard subtle attacks on Christianity by these people, but I have heard enough. When a TV's "personality" is interviewed on why he left the ministry, and he says it was because he had ceased to believe in the divinity of Christ, a good many young fans are going to have doubts. Now if, at the same time, a popular personality had been present to confirm his continuing belief, it might not have been so bad; but no such thing was done. Programmes on the French network were equally effective in attacking religious faith there.

It finally became evident, even to CBC management, that Talks and Public Affairs had gone too far in using the networks for ideological propaganda. Mr. Bushnell, acting president, attempted to reform the situation, but immediately the Talks and Public Affairs group mutinied. Their mutiny succeeded, and Mr. Bushnell has, in effect, been sent to Siberia.

Most Canadians would have backed Bushnell to the hilt in his efforts to stop this group from carrying on its biased propaganda. Why, then, did the CBC's Board of Governors fail to do so? Albertans, and others, want an explanation.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

SOME GOOD IDEAS FOR DRYING OFF A COW

"If a cow has been milked to within 2 to 3 weeks of freshening, it's wise to continue milking, feed liberally and expect production in the next lactation period to be low," says Prof. G. E. Raithby, Head of the Department of Animal Husbandry at the Ontario Agricultural College. "For the top production year in and year out, a 10-month lactation period and a 6 to 9-week dry period — even longer rest periods for thin and young cows — is necessary."

What drying off system will you follow? The incomplete milking method or prolonged period of drying off may be best for udders that become congested or mastitic when milking is stopped abruptly. Raithby suggests you merely "go easy, cut feed and water intake, milk occasionally and if possible remove drying off cows from the regular milking line."

The abrupt milking cut-off will give your cow a more complete rest if you do it right, he adds, but can't be used on cows that have a mastitic history unless they're treated and cured.

To discontinue milking abruptly, Raithby suggests changing the milking routine, removing protein rich foods, and reducing the grain and water. Stop milking completely, regardless of the amount of milk produced (let udder pressure build up), and seal off the udder. It's advisable to infuse all four quarters with antibiotic solution for mastitis prevention following the last milking, if the herd is not clean of mastitis.

For three days after the last milking, cut the grain mixture and silage to half the usual amounts. Then beginning the fourth day, after the udder is sealed, put the cow on full feed again. Raithby suggests you watch the cow closely. If the seal on one teat breaks, milk out all four quarters and reseal, using the same precautions as before.

Best way to seal the udder? Milk all four quarters dry, then wash clean and dry with a clean towel. Then disinfect the ends of the teats with tincture of iodine or alcohol, and dip them into a colloidion. This will prevent entrance of organisms into the streak canal.

Keep the cow with a large udder in a box stall until the swelling has subsided. The udder becomes distended and firm but usually is not too uncomfortable. After two to three days the pressure starts falling off and the milk starts to be re-absorbed from the udder until the gland is dry.

HOW TO STAY AWAY FROM TRACTOR HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS

Study this accident report from the Ontario Department of Agriculture's safety specialist, H. E. Wright. The Highway Department of Ontario made the 1957 tractor highway accident figures available to him and he thinks the following details should be stressed.

In 1957, there were 141 tractor accidents on the highway in Ontario — more than one every three days. And over 40 percent of the accidents occurred in July, August and September. The 16 to 24 year age group were involved in over one fifth of the accidents, the next most accident-prone group being farmers between 35 and 44 years (one out of seven were involved).

Most surprising figure was the fact that more than half the accidents were on straight roads and main highways. A good two-thirds of the trouble occurred in daylight, and Wright reports that half of the tractor operators were responsible for the accidents.

Left turns, poor lights, and inappropriate entrance to roadways accounted for over one third of the collisions; farmers were not responsible for half the accidents, being struck in the rear by overtaking motor vehicles.

Details for 1958 aren't out yet, but the situation was worse. Wright reports there were 149 tractors involved in accidents; that's an increase of 8 over 1957. Here are some ways Wright suggests for cutting the accident toll:

Keep tractor and equipment as far on the shoulder as possible. This lets the drivers of cars see past you without edging onto the wrong side of the road and also makes passing easier.

If shoulders aren't wide enough to ride, pull in at each wide area or county crossroad to allow cars and trucks to pass. It prevents "suicide passing" when drivers in long lines of cars get impatient.

Have flashing amber lights or yellow and black striped, 2x4 foot boards attached to the rear of the trailing vehicle.

If the road is hilly or winding, mount a red flag on a pole so it projects several feet above the equipment. It gives motorists a warning when you're in a hollow.

Don't travel at night with farm equipment. If you must, stick with the lighting requirements stated in the Highways Act. The law says: Two white lights on each side of the front, and a red light at the rear. All lights must be visible for at least 500 feet.

HUMUS HEAP MADE NOW READY FOR NEXT SPRING

Gardeners who balk at the scarcity — and the price — of commercial organic preparations might be interested in this "recipe" for humus, recommended by soil specialists with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Artificial manures can be made on your premises if you have an area that can be devoted to it. Use weeds, straw, leaves, plant residues of all types — as long as they are organic.

Here's how you make humus from these residues. First, pile the scraps in layers, six to twelve inches deep, and don't pack too tightly. Put a shovelful of soil in the pile here and there. This will allow for large quantities of soil decomposing organisms. Water the pile well and add fertilizer to each layer. A 10-10-10 mixture can be applied at the rate of one-half pound per ten pounds of residue. It would help if one-quarter of fine agricultural limestone per ten pounds of material were also applied. Sprinkle the fertilizer and the limestone over the refuse and mix as the pile is being built to insure even treatment of the entire pile. Build the pile about four to six feet high. When the need arises, dish the top to catch rainfall and water the pile if the weather is dry. Turn the pile over one month after building it, and at one month intervals thereafter, up to period of four months, if the weather is warm (no decomposition occurs during winter).

A humus heap made this summer should be ready by next spring.

RIGHT PULLET FEEDING CLUE TO EGG SIZE

Eggs from early maturing, full fed pullets are usually small and sometimes the increase in size is discouragingly slow.

At the Harrow, Ontario, Federal Research Station, experiments have shown that restricted feeding results in:

- Fewer small eggs.
- Increased production
- Lower laying house mortality.

A 20 per cent feed reduction is recommended. More than this can be dangerous unless poultrymen pay extra attention to the birds.

One pitfall is that most chick feeds contain drugs to control coccidiosis and to reduce feed means to cut down protection. Compensation should be made. In times of added stress, such as sickness, change of housing or vaccination, the pullets should receive extra feed.

Huddling Weakening

Further, young chicks on a restricted diet need extra warmth. They tend to huddle otherwise, and this has a weakening effect.

Hoppers should be plentiful enough so that every bird can feed at one time, and a better distribution is effected if there are two feedings daily.

Pastures should be mowed frequently to supply a succulent supplement to the restricted diet.

When the pullets are housed, feed should be restored gradually. Pendulous crops, thought to be caused by birds gorging themselves, are sometimes seen. While the pullets may be disappointing in appearance, it takes only two weeks or so on full feed and under good laying house management for all birds to reach a mature, ready-to-lay state.

COMMENT SOUGHT ON SEED ACT

A bill revising the Seeds Act has been passed by Parliament and it is expected it may go into effect July 1st next year, when proclaimed by Governor-in-Council.

Meanwhile, talks will be held between Canada Department of Agriculture officials and organized groups representing producer, merchandising, consumer and other interests throughout Canada.

These discussions will provide an opportunity of obtaining a cross-section of opinion on the proposed regulations under the Act.

Purpose of the bill was to reverse the Seeds Act to meet recent trends and developments in the production, processing and merchandising of seeds. No substantive changes in policy were made.

The Act ensures reliability of seeds sold to Canadian farmers. The first legislation in this field was introduced in 1905 and the present Act has been on the statute books since 1923.

The Act and its regulations establish quality standards for seeds for such factors as germination and purity; require imported seed to meet minimum quality standards; and provide for the licensing of new varieties of certain crops and for the grading of registered seed produced under crop pedigree certificates of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association.

Too, it is in connection with this Act that seed testing laboratories are maintained by the department of agriculture.

THE MERCILESS MILKWEED

Small insects attempting to steal nectar from milkweeds are in for a rude shock. Each pair of flowers has a concealed insect trap. When the insect lights on the flower, its foot slips off the slick, rounded cup and into a small crevice. Two wire-like filaments catch the insect's foot and only the strong can pull free of this trap. Those who escape carry pollen to fertilize another milkweed flower.

Milkweed, sometimes called silkweed or cottonweed, is a perennial, states the Field Crop Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. The stem penetrates so deeply into the ground that ordinary cultivation does not prevent new shoots coming up from the stem. Not content with this, the milkweed sends out rootstocks below plow depth and each rootstock sends up several new stems.

Formerly some people pulled up the young stalks and ate them as we do asparagus. Early physicians and herb doctors used an extract of the plant, asclepias, for asthma, dyspepsia, and cough.

In its young stage, milkweed can be controlled with a 2,4-D spray, but the spray must be directed at the under side of the leaves. The tops of the leaves are protected by a waxy covering that is almost herbicide proof.

Milkweed can be controlled by a herbicide called amino-triazole which turns the plant white and stops it manufacturing food. Control of milkweed and many other problem weeds is discussed in Circular 75A of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It is obtainable from the County Agricultural Representative.

RABIES ON DOWNWARD TREND

There has been a continued downward trend in the incidence of rabies since the peak month of November, say officials of the Health of Animals Division, Canada Department of Agriculture.

Normally, they explain, the disease drops off during summer months. Last year was an exception. Not only did it not decline, but it gained momentum in early autumn.

A record 828 specimens were received at the federal animal disease laboratory in November and rabies was confirmed in 55.8 per cent. The decline is graphically shown in the fact that 321 specimens were received in April and rabies confirmed in only 21.8 per cent.

In May last year there were 93 confirmed cases of rabies; in May this year, 49 cases. There were 104 cases in June last year, and for the same month this year, only 52 cases were reported.

For many areas, this is the third year of the current rabies outbreak. It spread from wildlife in the north into eastern Ontario, and subsequently into the western regions of the province.

A divisional spokesman said the disease, followed a three-year cycle in other areas in the past, with peak severity being reached in the second year. Whether this cycle will be repeated in the current epidemic remains to be seen.

While centered chiefly in western Ontario, the disease has shown up in neighbouring Manitoba. A gopher died of rabies last September, but the next victim, a skunk, wasn't claimed until February. Rabies was diagnosed in five more Manitoba skunks in May and four in June.

Health of Animals Division veterinarians investigated cases that are reported and, when a human is involved, the case is referred to the Medical Officer of Health.

Besides quarantining exposed and infected animals, the Division establishes free vaccination clinics for dogs in infected areas.

In Ontario, over 118,000 dogs and household pets were vaccinated in the last fiscal year at 421 clinics.

rendered, refined, filtered and bleached. It also may be stiffened somewhat since pork fat is naturally soft. Most lard is especially treated to prevent oxidation and rancidity, the chemical terms on the carton showing what preservatives have been added.

One dictionary says that a shortening is "that which makes pastry crisp and brittle." Another states it is "that which shortens pastry, cake, etc.; any fat fit for such use." In other words, lard, butter, hydrogenated vegetable fats and cooking oil all are shortenings.

In terms of tenderness and flakiness lard seems to have an edge over other shortenings in pastries and biscuits but, by itself, it doesn't make quite as good cakes as some of the others. However, the Consumer Section in tests done some time ago found that a combination of $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter with $\frac{1}{4}$ cup lard gave excellent flavour and texture in cakes calling for 1 cup shortening.

If you haven't been taking advantage of the bargain in lard, why not buy it next time you shop? Compare second wife?

prices and, even if you figure on using part butter for its incomparable flavour with the lard, you will find this shortening will be a good buy.

"Doctor," replied the caller, "did you ever hear of anyone having a second wife?"
